APPENDIX B.

(Ref. Executive Council Res. No. 15 of August 24, 1940.)

Minutes of the meeting of the Committee (appointed under Executive Council Resolution No. 160 of April 23, 1940) to recommend candidates for the award of the two Research Scholarships during the session 1940-41.

Present :

Dr. P. Basu,
Vice-Chancellor (in the Chair).

2. Mr. S. C. Chatterji.
3. Mr. L. P. Mathur.
4. Mr. K. P. Bhatnagar.
5. Rev. Canon T. D. Sully.
6. Rev. J. C. Chatterji.

The Committee considered the applications of the candidates for the two Research Scholarships to be awarded during the season 1940-41 and resolved to recommend as follows:—

- (1) that one of the scholarships be awarded to Mr. Ram Das of Cawnpore (Economics) on condition that he gives up his job in the Agricultural College, Cawnpore, and does not take up any other remunerative work during the period of the scholarship. In case he does not give up his present job the scholarship be awarded to Mr. Kishan Prasad Mathur of St. John's College, Agra (Economics).
- (2) that the second scholarship be awarded to Mr. Mohd Yusuf Khan of St. John's College, Agra (Mathematics).

P. BASU,
Vice-Chancellor.

APPENDIX C.

(Ref. Executive Council Res. No. 16 of August 24, 1940.)

Report on Tabulation of the Results for the Examinations of 1940.

As Tabulator for 1940, I may offer the following suggestions:—

I. Instructions to Tabulators—

The following notes for the guidance of tabulators should be omitted, being redundant and perhaps also a little misleading:—

(1) Note (a) under Statute 15, Chapter XXIX-A (p. 174 of Calendar, 1939-40).

(2) Note (i) under rule 1 of the grace mark rules.

Also in para 12 of the Registrar's instructions to Tabulators, it is absurd to speak of candidates appearing in one subject under Statute 20, Chapter XXIX-A and the necessary correction may be made.

It is clear that all these are merely survivals of the old days of General English and Special English which became out of place as soon as the two separate subjects of General English and English Literature were introduced in the courses of study for the B.A. Examination.

II. Roll lists—

(i) For the items at the bottom of the page of the B.A. Chart, an additional item "Passed without Division" should be added after the "3rd Division" in both lines 4 and 5. The passes are under four classes and not three.

(ii) In the heading "optional subjects besides General English" of column 6 of the B.A. Chart, the words "besides General English" should be omitted because, apart from being superfluous, they may perhaps suggest that General English is also an optional subject—which it is not, and certainly make the heading inappropriate for all but the regular candidates, e.g., those under Statute 4, Chapter XXX.

III Mark Sheets—

The marks for B.Sc. Practical are written very clumsily in most cases. The names are not generally in the alphabetical order and also the lines of names are often too close together, making it difficult to enter marks in the chart without mistakes. Examiners may be asked to write the names always in the alphabetical order and on ruled sheets of paper with sufficient space in between the lines.

D. P. BHATTACHARYA, Tabulator.

APPENDIX D.

(Ref. Executive Council Res. No. 17 of August 24, 1940.)

Report on the Conduct of Examinations of 1940.

The examinations of 1940 were conducted at all the centres in accordance with University instructions. One answer-book of Paper II (b) of Political Science for the B A. Examination was however wrongly sent to another examiner by the Superintendent of Examinations at S. D. College, Cawnpore centre.

SHYAM SUNDAR SHARMA, M.A.,
Registrar.

APPENDIX E.

(Ref. Executive Council Res. No. 18 of August 24, 1940.)

A meeting of the Finance Committee appointed by the Executive Council under its Resolution No. 69 of December 1939, was held at the Senate House, Agra, on Saturday, August 24, 1940, at 11 A.M.

Present:

Dr. P. Basu,

Vice-Chancellor (in the Chair).

2. Rev. J. C. Chatterji,

3. Rev. Canon T. D. Sully,

4. Mr. Kalka Prasad Bhatnagar.

5. Pt. Shyam Sundar Sharma (Registrar).

1. The Minutes of the meeting of the Finance Committee held on April 23, 1940, were confirmed (Vide Appendix B to the Minutes of the meeting of the Executive Council held on April 23, 1940, Minutes Vol. XIII-B, pages 101 to 113).

2. The Committee considered the Budget Estimates of the University for the year 1941-42 and the revised estimates for the year 1940-41 as prepared by the office (vide Appendix).

Resolved that the Estimates as prepared by the Office be recommended to the Executive Council for adoption.

3. Resolved that a sum upto Rs. 175 be sanctioned for expenditure on the entertainment of His Excellency the Chancellor on August 24, 1940.

P. BASU,

APPENDIX F.

(Ref. Executive Council Res. No. 22 of August 24, 1940.)

Report of the Medical Committee.

Introductory.

The United Provinces Government having decided to raise the Agra Medical School to the status of a College conferring the M.B.,B.S. degree, the Agra University was asked to take necessary steps for constituting a Faculty of Medicine and for having the College affiliated to the University. Consequently the Vice-Chancellor appointed the following Committee to go into the whole question with a view to (i) suggesting the necessary amendments to the existing Statutes and Regulations, and (ii) framing the conditions of affiliation relating to staff, equipment and accommodation after inspecting the School and the Hospitals attached to it:—

1. The Vice-Chancellor.
2. Col. T. C. Boyd, Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, U. P.
3. Dr. B. C. Roy.
4. Dr. Jivraj Mehta.
5. Dr. W. Burridge.
6. Dr. B. N. Vyas.
7. Lt.-Col. J. C. Bharucha.
8. Rev. J. C. Chatterji.
9. Mr. S. C. Chatterji.
10. Mr. L. P. Mathur
- and 11. The Registrar (Secretary).

2. The Committee held two sittings at Agra on April 3 and 4, 1940, at which all the members of the Committee were present. After a discussion on more general things in the morning of April 3, the Committee adjourned to visit the school and the hospitals in the afternoon and met again on April 4 to record its decisions on the various points. On April 22, 1940, a meeting of the University members of the Committee, viz., Nos. 1, 8-10 in the above list and Lt.-Col. Barucha, was held to look into the draft report of the meetings held on the 3rd and the 4th of April and some points were cleared up.

3. The present report has been drawn up on the basis of the decisions of the Committee taken on April 3 and 4 and some gaps which could not be filled up at that time for want of information from the Indian Universities and the Medical Colleges in India have since been filled up after getting the required information.

4. The report falls under the following heads:—

V. Appendices	...	Page 36.
VI. Miscellaneous	...	Page 36.
VII. Amendments to the instructions to Paper-Setters, Moderators and Examiners	..	Pages 36-37.

5. Before proceeding further it may be pointed out here that in 1938 the United Provinces Government had appointed a Medical Re-organisation Committee and this Committee under its Resolution No. 2 of January 24, 1939, appointed the following sub-committee to go into details and make recommendations in regard to the staff, hospital buildings, laboratories and equipment of the Agra Medical School and Thomason Hospital with a view to raise the Medical School to the status of a College:—

1. Lt.-Col. Bharucha.
2. Dr. Jivaraj N. Mehta.
3. Major-General D. P. Goil
4. Rai Bahadur Dr. B. N. Vyas
- and 5. Dr. U. F. M. Morton.

6. This Committee went into minute details of staff, equipment, and accommodation and published towards the end of 1939 a report under the signature of Lt.-Col. Bharucha. This report was made available to the members of the present Committee which adopted in toto the recommendations of the sub-committee and therefore these details are not embodied in the present report. Only a reference to them has been made under Head No. III (Page 35) of the present report.

7. The main recommendations of the Committee appear under Head I A and I B which need some explanation here. The Agra University has five Faculties of Arts, Science, Law, Commerce and Agriculture at present, and the Medical Faculty will be the sixth Faculty in the University. Therefore the laws relating to this new Faculty had to be drawn up in strict conformity with the laws relating to the other Faculties of the University and necessary amendments to the existing Statutes and the Regulations had to be proposed here and there. These broken bits unfortunately do not by themselves afford an intelligent reading in most places and therefore for following them reference will have to be made to the Calendar of the University for the year 1939-40 (a copy of which was supplied to every member of the Committee). But it will be in this form that the amendments to the Statutes and Regulations will be proposed to the constituted bodies of the University and finally to His Excellency the Chancellor of the University for their approval.

The salient features of the more important amendments are mentioned below:—

- (a) Chapter XI of the Agra University Calendar 1940 (pages 113-115)—Constitution of the Faculty of Medicine.—It is proposed that the Medical Faculty should consist of 12 persons, including the Dean of the Faculty; there will be three teachers of the Medical College on the Faculty, three representatives of the Senate, one of whom may be a teacher; and two representatives of the Executive Council, who may or may not be teachers. The Faculty will have power to co-opt up to 3 persons (equal to one-fourth of the total number of members on the Faculty) at least one of whom shall be a teacher. In this way there will be about six teachers on the Faculty (including the Dean) and six non-teachers.

(b) Chapter XVI.—The Boards of Studies (page 124 of the Calendar).

As usual, two Boards of Studies have been provided for, one consisting of four persons, for the First and Second M.B.,B.S., and the other consisting of eight persons for the Final M.B.,B.S. Each Board shall contain at least one person who is not a teacher in an affiliated college, the rest will be generally all teachers in the College. The Board shall be formed by the Faculty of Medicine, and will have power to lay down the courses of study and suggest names of examiners.

(c) The Examination—(General).

(i) There will be as usual three examinations, viz., the First, the Second and the Final M.B.,B.S. examination, each of which will be conducted twice a year in March-April and October.

(ii) The fees will be the same as in the Lucknow University at present.

(iii) The minimum attendance at lecture shall be 75% and at the practical and clinicals 85%.

(iv) In each subject for an examination there shall be at least one external examiner and if there is only one paper in theory it may be divided into two equal sections for purposes of appointing examiners.

(v) The fee for setting a paper and valuing the answer-book of a candidate for one examination in the Faculty of Medicine will be the same as for the degree examinations of the University in the other Faculties, viz., Rs. 40 and Re. 1-4 respectively. The scale of remuneration to examiners for conducting a practical and clinical test and the viva voce is the same as in Lucknow.

(d) The Examinations (Special).

The new Chapter XXXIII-C (page 7 of the report) has been divided under three heads, viz., Statutes (pages 7-10), Regulations (pages 10-14) and the courses of studies (pages 14-31). All the Statutes for all the examinations in the Faculty appear in one place, then the regulations defining the scheme of the examinations, and lastly the tentative courses of study. As will be seen from a perusal of the Agra University Calendar the same procedure has been followed in the case of the other Faculties also.

The Statutes have been framed strictly in accordance with the conditions prescribed by the Indian Medical Council and following the lines of the Bombay and the Lucknow Universities. Candidates for the examinations of the Medical Faculty have also been given the option, as exists in the other Faculties, of offering the extra subject of Military Science; it is doubtful, however, whether any use will be made of this provision.

The scheme of examinations lays down the standard of the examinations and here it will be noticed that throughout the scheme 40% marks in Theory, 50% marks in the practicals and the clinicals and 50% in the aggregate have been laid down for a pass. It is the same in the Lucknow University also.

The courses of study are tentative and have been framed mainly on the lines of the Lucknow University in some subjects and the Bombay University in other subjects. It will be really for the Faculty of Medicine and the Board of Studies when they are constituted in the University early during the year 1941 to take up this question and to fill in the gaps regarding text-books and so on. The present batch of students in the College is following the Lucknow syllabus, and the Agra University will conduct the First M.B., B.S. Examination on that basis in 1941.

8. Under Head II (pages 32-35) the minimum qualifications of the staff to be engaged for the College and the Hospital have been laid down. These recommendations along with the recommendations under Head III relating to accommodation and equipment (explained under paras 5 and 6 above) will form part of the conditions of affiliation of the College to the University.

9. Under Head IV, the names of the three hospitals in Agra which will have to be recognised for the work of the College, have been mentioned.

10. Certain minor laws of the Agra University and other information relating to the Colleges appear in the Appendices in the Calendar (pages 275-387). Under Head V the Appendices which will have to be revised as a consequence of the affiliation of the College to the University have been mentioned.

11. The University has provided certain rules relating to the setting and moderation of question papers which do not appear in the Calendar, being of a confidential nature. Under Head VII of this report, pages 36-37, the necessary amendments to these rules have been proposed.

APPENDIX B.

(Ref. Executive Council Res. No. 51 of Sep. 28, 1940.)

Proceedings of the meeting of the Committee appointed (under Executive Council Resolution No 26 of August 24, 1940) to consider and, if necessary, to revise the Statute in Chapter V (page 81) of the Calendar for 1939-40, held on September 27, 1940 at 1-30 p.m.

Present:

- Dr. P. Basu,
Vice-Chancellor (in the Chair)
2. Mr. K. P. Bhatnagar.
 3. Mr. J. C. Chatterji.

Resolved that in the opinion of this Committee no revision of the Statute in Chapter V (page 81) of the Calendar for 1939-40 is necessary.

P. BASU,
Vice-Chancellor.

APPENDIX C(i)

(Ref. Executive Council Res. No. 52 of Sep. 28, 1940.)

Statement of Criticisms and Suggestions for the Convocation.

1. Principal, Meerut College, Meerut.

1. The attention of the students should be drawn to the rule that they should stand at their seats when they are being presented to the Vice-Chancellor.

2. The signatures of the students to whom diplomas are distributed should be taken at the time of distribution.

3. The procession of the Executive Councillors, Senators, etc., led by the Vice-Chancellor may with advantage enter the Pandal at the end opposite to the Dais and pass through the gallery thus giving the students an opportunity to have a look at it from close quarters.

2. Principal, Victoria College, Gwalior.

1. The number of seats provided for the graduates of Victoria College was far short of the number of graduates who attended the Convocation. Enough seats should be provided in future.

2. Graduates from certain colleges did not stand up when they were being presented to the Vice-Chancellor, and, as certain colleges have precedence over other colleges, the graduates from the former set a very bad example to those coming from other colleges.

It is suggested that graduates from such colleges as have shown better discipline should be given better seats in the Convocation Pandal.

3. Principal, Indore Christian College, Indore.

I wish that some scheme could be devised by which the reading of long lists of names could be eliminated. Would it not be possible to have the Principals say "Sir, I present to you so many students of the.....College, etc." without reading out any names? As it is, practically a whole hour is taken up with reading names to which nobody listens.

4. Principal, St. Andrew's College, Gorakhpur.

I think that the number of those receiving degrees is too large to make the ceremony solemn and impressive and, therefore, suggest spreading the Convocation over two days, if possible.

APPENDIX C (ii).

(Ref. Executive Council Res. No. 52 of Sept. 28, 1940.)

Copy of letter No. 138 dated September 14, 1940, from the Principal, Agra College.

I have the honour to make the following remarks regarding Convocation :—

1. At present the distribution of degree certificates is a tedious affair, involving much noise and confusion and creating a bad atmosphere for the subsequent Convocation. Much time is lost in the search for the certificates corresponding to particular slips and in calling out the candidates. This has been a matter for criticism year after year and no serious attempt has been made to improve it. I make the following simple suggestions :—

The slips, which the students are required to produce and the certificates which the clerk distributes, should bear corresponding numbers and the certificates should be arranged in serial order. Exchange could then be effected without any noise or confusion.

2. No seats appear to be reserved for the stewards. If members of the staff of the local colleges are kind enough to act as steward for a number of hours, the University might reasonably reserve a few seats for them when Convocation begins.

3. Printed list of candidates should be distributed at the meeting and references made to these lists while presenting the candidates instead of reading out the names. The present system is unspeakably boring and nobody takes any interest in it and therefore the proceedings lose all dignity and impressiveness.

*Faculty of Arts Res. No. 5.

†Resolution No. 2 of March 11, 1936, reads as below :—

2. With reference to the Academic Board Resolution No. 9 of February 7, 1936, the Board considered the report on the following remark of the Special Committee appointed by the Academic Board to review the results of the examinations of 1935, "High percentage of passes in B.A. Marathi".

The Committee think that they cannot find fault with the examiners. As compared with the standard of examination expected in subjects where the expression is through the medium of English, which is a great handicap, the expression in one's own mother tongue is naturally easier. Under the circumstances the examiner has to give marks according to the University standard in other subjects where the medium is English and therefore individual marks are naturally high which leads to the high percentage of passes. The remedy suggested is, that the policy of the University should be to raise the minimum number of marks for passing in subjects where the medium of instruction is the candidate's mother tongue.

AUDIT AND INSPECTION NOTE ON THE ACCOUNTS OF THE AGRA UNIVERSITY.

Period 1939-40.

AUDIT NOTE.

The last audit ended on July 29, 1939, and was for the year 1938-39. The present audit commenced and concluded on August 15, and September 18, 1940, respectively and is for the year 1939-40.

OFFICE REPLIES.

Part I.

THE LAST AUDIT NOTE.

1. With the exception of the following paragraph, which calls for further remarks, the last audit note was adequately dealt with:—

(a) Paragraph 15:—The statute defining the eligibility of servants to the benefit of provident fund is liable to more than one interpretation. Servants whose grade is Rs. 25-1-30, may be made eligible to subscribe to the fund on the ground that the maximum of their grade is Rs. 30 as interpreted by the Vice-Chancellor, but they may also be debarred from benefit so long as they draw pay less than Rs. 30 per month. The statute, therefore, needs clarification.

1. Calls for no remark.

(a) The Finance Committee and the Executive Council both were of opinion that the Statute is clear and no amendment is needed.

Part II.

THE PRESENT AUDIT.

Administration.

2. The office of the Vice-Chancellor continued to be held by Dr. P. Basu, M.A., PH.D., B.L., throughout the year under audit.

2. Calls for no remark.

AUDIT NOTE.

OFFICE REPLIES.

Finances.

3. The financial position of the University fund, during the year under audit as indicated by the accounts maintained, was as follows:—

	Rs.
Opening balance on 1st April, 1939	308
Receipts	1,78,775
Total	1,79,083
Expenditure	1,76,467

Closing balance on 31st March, 1940 ... 2,616

This balance agreed with that of the bank pass-book after taking into account the amount of uncashed cheques and income which could not be deposited within the year.

The closing balance includes a liability of Rs. 190 on account of security deposits and an unspent sum of Rs. 800 on account of Government grant for affiliation of Medical School, Agra, and so the net closing balance is Rs. 1,626.

Besides this balance the University has the following investments:—

	Rs.
(1) In fixed deposit with the Imperial Bank	29,000
(2) Government Promissory notes and the U. P. Bonds of the face value of	44,000
(3) In deposit with the Agra Electric Supply Company	500
Total	73,500

Grant.

4. A sum of Rs. 800 was received by the University from the Government for affiliation of Agra Medical School, which remained unspent during the year under audit.

3. Calls for no remark.

4. The amount was spent during the current year (1940-41) in meeting the travelling expenses of the Committee appointed in connection with the affiliation of the Medical School, Agra.

Free occupation of rooms in office building for temporary residence.

6. Some rooms of the Kitchlu wing in upper floor of the University office building are furnished as drawing rooms and bed rooms, etc., which are used by the Vice-Chancellor and his guests for their temporary residence when they visit Agra to attend meetings, etc., for which the permission of the Executive Council or the Senate does not exist. In view of the fact that the University pays daily allowance to all the members coming from outstation as well as to the Vice-Chancellor to meet their expenses of stay at Agra, the additional amenity of free stay in the

6. The rooms are occupied by the Vice-Chancellor and his guests, if any. A resolution of the Executive Council is hardly necessary permitting the Vice-Chancellor to stay in the University buildings while he is here. He is an honorary Officer and has no home in Agra and ever since the Agra University has come into existence, the Vice-Chancellors who were not residents of Agra have been occupying rooms for their stay in the University Office.

AUDIT NOTE.

OFFICE REPLIES.

said rooms of the office building should either be approved by the Executive Council or they should be required to pay for the occupation of rooms, as the Council may decide.

Fountain Pen.

7. In February, 1940, a Parker fountain pen was purchased for Rs. 20 for the Vice-Chancellor. It should be noticed that the Government orders prohibit the supply of fountain pens to its officers at State expense. For the same reason, the supply of fountain pens to the officers of the University would be objectionable and the charge cannot, therefore, be passed in audit.

On the audit objection to point out the entry of the pen in the stock register, it was replied that because it is a perishable article, it was not entered in the register. The view taken is not correct as a fountain pen is not a petty consumable article and so it should be noted in the stock register. It may be mentioned here that a fountain pen for Rs. 25 was also purchased for the Vice-Chancellor in the year 1935, and it was entered on page 106 of the stock register. On the supply of the new fountain pen, the return and disposal of the old one was not shown in the register, which should be done now.

Centre Charges.

8. A comparison of the centre charges disclosed marked difference in the amount of expenditure in comparison to the number of examinees of various centres as given below. In order to regulate the charges in all centres, it is desirable that a flat rate may be calculated for the contingent expenses after taking into consideration the position of all centres,

7. The Vice-Chancellor of the Agra University is an honorary Officer and devotes a good deal of his time and energy to University work without any remuneration whatsoever. It is not too much for the University to provide a fountain pen for him which he wants for University work.

The fountain pen is a perishable article and should not have been entered in the Stock Register in 1935. This mistake was rectified when a fountain pen was purchased in 1940. The pen was entered in the stationery register and is issued in the name of the Vice-Chancellor.

8. Flat rate as suggested by the Auditor seems to be impracticable in this case. There are certain items of expenditure, viz., postage, registration, insurance and Railway freight, etc., the minimum of which is fixed and has to be paid by all the centres irrespective of the number of answer-books of the examinees. However, the attention of the centres will be drawn to miniand the same rate should be brought in force in future:—

Library.

9. For having kept 3 books issued to him, from the library, beyond the prescribed time, Mr. B. Saroop was fined Rs. 6 under rule 6, of the library rules. Later on this fine was remitted by the Registrar (as librarian) on the recommendation of Professor L. P. Mathur as a special case. The rule, as it stands, is quite rigid, and it does not confer any discretion for remitting fine in special cases. Anyway, if it is deemed necessary to excuse his fine, the sanction of the Executive Council should be obtained therefor.

9. The books were in German and the students required the help of the teachers in going through them. The Head of the Department under these circumstances recommended that the fine be refunded and accordingly it was refunded.

The necessary sanction regarding the refund of fine may now be accorded.

Payees Receipts.

10. The following payees' receipts, which were not available at this audit, should be obtained and shown at the next occasion:—

10. The receipt for Rs. 30-13-0 from R. B. Hari Prasad has already been obtained and will be put up at the next audit.

As regards the receipts from Messrs. T. Grahame Bailey and R. R. Gates of London and Prof. A. G. Eames of U.S.A., efforts will be made to obtain them but it is very doubtful whether they would be obtained under the present war conditions.

Refund.

11. From the imprest account of the Registrar it transpired that a sum of Re. 1-10 was spent on the purchase of stamp for the execution of security bond by the Assistant Accountant. This charge is irregular as the servant, who furnishes security is liable to meet all its incidental charges. On the audit objection it was stated that a sum of Rs. 5 was also spent for the Accountant for similar purpose on 23rd January, 1938. Both these charges are irregular and the money should be refunded to the University now.

11. If the charge is considered irregular the amount may be recovered and credited to University account.

12. Rule 13 of the account rules, provides that the claim for refund of money shall not be entertained if the application for refund of money is not received within a period of six months from the date on which money was deposited in the office, but in the following cases, the authorities made a departure from this rule and allowed refunds, without receiving applications therefor. On the audit objection it was stated that this will not be done in future, and that it will be suggested to the Council to extend the

12. In the cases noted in the audit note, money from the same person was received twice over and therefore it was refunded.

The present time limit of 6 months as fixed under account rule No. 13 was insufficient under certain circumstances. It is, therefore, suggested that the time limit be extended to one year and the account rule be amended accordingly.

13. At present the fee of a compartmental candidate, whose application for sitting in an examination is rejected, is refunded after a deduction of Rs. 2. This practice of deduction, which seems to have been brought in force on the analogy of refunds of fee to other students, has no support of any statute. To regularize the practice, the Statute No. B-4 of Chapter XXIX should be amended.

13. This has been the practice of the University. Necessary amendments to the Statutes may be made to regularise it.

The same remark applies to the refund of fee to candidates appearing under Statute No. 4 of Chapter XXX.

Conclusion.

14. The accounts were, on the whole, satisfactorily maintained. The objection statement contains 6 unsettled items.

14. The objections in the statement are of a formal nature and will be met in the next audit.

SUPPLEMENTARY AUDIT AND INSPECTION NOTE ON THE ACCOUNTS OF THE AGRA UNIVERSITY.

Period 1939-40.

AUDIT NOTE.

OFFICE REPLIES.

Travelling Allowance.

6. Travelling Allowance is a compensatory allowance and it should be so regulated that it will not on the whole be a source of profit to the recipient. On the above principle, the Provincial Government have for their officers prescribed a scale of $1\frac{1}{2}$ railway fare or for return journeys, for which concession tickets are available the value of such ticket but half fare for the forward and another half for the return journey. Similarly, for halts preceding or following a railway journey, daily allowance is admissible only if the halt at a station other than the head quarter was less than 8 hours. In the light of the above, the scale of travelling allowance prescribed for the Vice-Chancellor of the University appears to need reconsideration. He is allowed double first class for railway journeys and Rs. 7/8/0 a day while travelling on duty in addition to railway fare.

7. The Travelling Allowance rule, which permits the drawal of actual expenses by local members to the extent of Rs. 3/- does not appear to have been applied correctly. It appears that members generally charge Rs. 3/- as a claim due, irrespective of the actual expenses incurred by them.

One of the members went to the extent of striking out the words, 'actual conveyance charges' from his bill, and still charged Rs. 3/- (vide Voucher No. 82 of March, 1940).

To ensure a strict application of the rules local members should be required to mention in their claims, the actual expenses incurred on conveyance.

It is also necessary for the proper checking of the bills that the duration of the meetings should be given on the attendance by the Convener of meetings.

6. This is a matter which is and has to be decided by Regulations. The auditor's function is to see that the expenditure is according to Regulations.

7. Payments of amounts claimed in the bills have been made according to Rules.

It will be considered.

This already appears in the printed form of Conveyance Allowance bill.

The suggestion made in last para does not seem to be practicable in all cases.

1. Dr. S. K. Mukerji proposed that the Minutes of the meeting of the Senate held on November 17, 1939 be confirmed.

Mr. S. P. Saksena seconded the proposal.

Mr. Ramsaran Vidyarthi: Before this is passed I would like to make one observation, that while we pass the minutes of the last meeting we must have time to have some questions before it and in this heavy agenda actually there is no question-time allotted and in this manner we cannot actually satisfy our curiosity. Only once in a year we meet here.

Vice-Chancellor: I would draw the attention of Mr. Vidyarthi to Regulation 67 on page 102—

Any member of the Senate shall, subject to the Regulations of the Senate, be entitled to put questions regarding any matter connected with the administration of the University. A member shall put a question, or any other member shall be entitled to put a supplementary question. Notice of questions to be answered shall be given not less than 20 days before the date of the meeting.

The Vice-Chancellor may decline to answer any question if he considers it contrary to the best interests of the University.

I have to announce that no questions were received. Therefore there are no answers. If you had asked questions those questions would have been answered.

Babu Chhail Behari Capoor: At a previous meeting of the Senate I put certain questions. It is usual for legislative bodies and other bodies.

Vice-Chancellor: I am afraid my ruling cannot be discussed here. I ruled that questions, if put within time, could have been answered here if relevant. What happened in the past cannot be discussed now.

The motion for the confirmation of the minutes was agreed to.

2. With reference to Section 9 (1) of the Act, the Senate proceeded to elect a Vice-Chancellor from among the three persons recommended by the Executive Council.

NOTE.—The following three persons were recommended by the Executive Council on September 28, 1940 (Res. No. 45) for the election of the Vice-Chancellor:—

1. The Rev. J. C. Chatterjee,
2. Major Nawab Muhammad Jamshed Ali Khan,
3. Raja Bahadur Kushal Pal Singh.

Dr. S. K. Mukerji: I beg to propose the name of the Rev. J. C. Chatterjee.

Vice-Chancellor: No proposal is necessary.

Babu Chhail Behari Capoor: I would like to know whether you as Vice-Chancellor received my notice of an amendment to this motion and what is your decision on the matter?

The Registrar: It had been received. A reply was sent thereto.

Babu Chhail Behari Capoor: One ruling has no doubt been communicated to me. But from the letter sent by the Registrar it does not appear whether it contains the ruling of the Vice-Chancellor or of the Registrar.

Vice-Chancellor: The Registrar is the administrative head of the office. He sends out letters authorised by the Vice-Chancellor. He does not send it if it is not authorised by the Vice-Chancellor.

Babu Chhail Behari Capoor: But the letter does not say that the Registrar was directed by the Vice-Chancellor.

Vice-Chancellor: It is not necessary. I will ask the Senate to vote for one of the three names. Prof. Siddhanta and Rev. Sully will kindly act as tellers.

The voting having taken place the Vice-Chancellor declared the Rev. J. C. Chatterjee elected amidst applause.

Vice-Chancellor: Following the usual custom I would request the Rev. J. C. Chatterjee to take his seat by me here and assist me in conducting the proceedings of the meeting.

(The Rev. J. C. Chatterjee then took his seat on the dais by the side of the Vice-Chancellor amidst cheers.)

Mr. K. C. Chatterji: May we know the number of votes?

Vice-Chancellor: Our usual custom is not to announce the votes. I would request the member not to insist on this.

Babu Chhail Behari Capoor: Is there any particular objection to this?

Vice-Chancellor: My suggestion is that the House would do well in not insisting on the publication of the number of votes. However, I would take the decision of the House.

The motion was put to vote and lost.

3. Vice-Chancellor: Members of the Senate, it is with great pleasure that I announced the election of the Rev. J. C. Chatterjee as Vice-Chancellor. He has an exceptionally wide and varied experience of administrative work connected with education. As Superintendent of Education he is in direct charge of schools and colleges including a first grade college in Delhi and in Ajmer. As Chairman of the Board of High School and Intermediate Education, he is the head of an organisation which supervises and controls education all over Rajputana and Central India. He has been in close touch with the administration of the two universities of Agra and Delhi and has always taken an intelligent and effective part in their deliberations. For years he was a member of the Central Legislature of India where he left a high reputation for eloquence, sobriety, and firm grasp of all large problems of general administrative policy. For a number of years in his younger days he was also a teacher. It is rarely that you can find a man of his mental calibre with such wide experience of life as a teacher, as a public man, and as one in intimate touch with educational administration from the primary school to the first grade college. I think that the University is fortunate in being able to have the services of a man like him as its Vice-Chancellor.

As a man, he also possesses very good qualities for the high office to which he has been called today by the suffrage of this learned House. I have known him intimately for years and I have seen him at work at close quarters. It is difficult for me to speak of his personal qualities without exaggerating them. For the more I have seen them, the more I have been struck by their depth and variety. Therefore, I shall refrain from enumerating them in detail. His sociable nature, even temper, and persuasive manner will, I am sure, help him to make a very successful Vice-Chancellor, much more successful at any rate than his immediate predecessor (laughter). I whole-heartedly congratulate Mr. Chatterjee upon the opportunity, which has come in his way, of using his great abilities for the advancement of the cause of higher education in this Province (cheers).

Rev. J. C. Chatterji: Sir, with your permission and through you, may, be allowed to say a few words of grateful thanks to you and to my colleagues of the Senate for the great honour that they have done me in electing me as your successor? I know within myself that all that you have said is prompted much more by the kindness of your heart and your generosity than because of anything that I might have done to deserve the praise you have bestowed upon me.

Sir, there are occasions in life when a man feels very humble and yet proud and I believe this is one of those occasions. I am proud in the knowledge and in the sense that those with whom I have had the privilege of fellowship and of working together for very nearly ten years should have done me this great honour which is the highest within their power to confer. That, Sir, is something which a man might well be proud of and look back in later years with pride and at the same time, Sir, it makes one feel humble, I think, most humble when one realises what others do not realise and what even those who may not be kindly disposed towards one do not fully know, namely, one's own weakness, and my unworthiness for a position of this academic distinction and importance and I do assure you, Sir, that I do feel extremely humble. I feel that the kindness and the honour which the Senate has done me comes from the goodness of their hearts and because of their generous appreciation of the little that I might have been able to do in the service of this University. I do realise that there are people in this Senate, and certainly outside among the names that have been suggested, who by reason of their eminence, by reason of their learning and other qualities are head and shoulders above me. Names have been mentioned and I may say in all humility, that I certainly am not worthy to unloose the latchet of their shoes so far as eminence, learning and high position are concerned. But I do assure my colleagues that if their choice meets with the approval of His Excellency the Chancellor and I am called upon to succeed you in this high office I will do so, in a spirit of deep humility with the full knowledge of my own shortcomings, in the full knowledge that I do not possess the eminence, the greatness or the learning generally expected of Vice-Chancellors of learned bodies like this. And I also do assure them if I am called to do this work with the approval of the powers that be, that I have every intention of accepting office with a very honest and genuine desire to do my very best. That after all is the least that a man can do and I do assure my friends in this Senate that it is my intention to do my very best and to serve the cause of this University and the object which it has before it, namely, the advancement of knowledge and the search after Truth with all the strength and power that I may possess.

I feel, Sir, that a University is an assemblage of people from diverse places, of diverse views and of diverse creeds and of diverse opinions and yet it also is a fellowship, a fellowship for the purpose of acquiring knowledge which, in other words, is Truth. And in that fellowship progress is only possible if there is goodwill and if there is cooperation and I think, Sir, goodwill can only be attained and achieved particularly in the present-day world which is so empty of goodwill, if we are able while believing in the sincerity of our own motives to also believe in the honesty of other people's motives. All I, therefore, can say is, that if any of my friends here or outside are suspicious or in any way diffident about the worthiness or unworthiness of any particular individual who may have been selected by a democratic body to a certain post, then I fully respect their motives and I honour their sincerity. But when I say this may I also add that they may be able or rather may I request them that they should also respect the sincerity of other people's motives and in this case of my motives. I intend, if I am called to this office, to discharge my duties in a spirit of service, in a spirit of humility and with the full knowledge of my shortcomings. May I say that I may be given a trial at least on that score. I am sure, Sir, that if this Senate have elected me, they have done so knowing their own minds fully well. I am certain to receive from them not only their co-operation but their sympathy and I am sure, Sir, that I can also trust that they will bear with my shortcomings, with my lack of eminence and with the smallness of my learning so that we may work together for the welfare of this University and of those who are committed to our charge as teachers in this University.

May I also say, Sir, how much I owe to your example as my predecessor here and also as my predecessor in yet another field of work and I feel that under you I have had a training which I trust will be to me an asset in my resolution of serving the body that have done me this honour to the best of my ability (cheers).

3. Vice-Chancellor: Before we proceed further with the formal items of business I would invite the members of the Senate to join me in extending a hearty welcome to the Nawab Sahib of Chhatari. As you all know, on two occasions, he was the Chancellor of this University (hear, hear). He occupies a very high position in the public life of the country including the educational activities of the country. We are proud of his being a member of the Senate. I hope, and I suppose I voice the hope of all the members of the Senate, that the Nawab Sahib of Chhatari will attend the Senate more frequently than he has done in the past (laughter). I hope I am not giving away any secret when I say that about seven or eight months ago I happened to meet him, and I spoke to him about his not attending the Senate and not taking any serious part in our educational activities. At that time he promised to attend the next meeting of the Senate and I am glad that he has remembered it and he is attending to-day. On behalf of the Senate, I offer the Nawab Sahib of Chhatari a very hearty welcome.

Nawab Sahib of Chhatari: Sir, I am very grateful to you for welcoming me and to you all for giving your approval to the proposal. I am really very sorry that I could not do my duty in attending the Senate very regularly. As you just now mentioned, as I promised you in Meerut, I am glad I have been able to keep that promise. Last time, when I visited this University, in 1933, I remember what warmth and cordial welcome I received from the Senate and the citizens of Agra and the pleasant memory still reminds me of sincere affection that I received from the teachers and students of this University. It will always be a great pleasure to me to do any possible service to this University (applause).

Vice-Chancellor: Before the next item is taken up I would request the Rev. J. C. Chatterjee to take the Chair.

(After this the Vice-Chancellor left the meeting and Rev. J. C. Chatterjee occupied the chair.)

4. Rev. J. C. Chatterjee: Before I ask the House to take up the next item, I shall ask the permission of the House that in the event of this resolution being carried, namely Resolution 3, I would like to change the order of business slightly and after that to ask you to consider Resolution 24 as both these resolutions bear on the same subject and I would ask you to take them up one after the other. Resolution 24 is a resolution which seeks to place on record our appreciation of the work of our present Vice-Chancellor. In the event of this resolution being carried I propose taking up Resolution No. 24. Do I take it that the House is agreeable to this step? (Yes, yes). Then I put before the House this recommendation made by the Executive Council (vide Resolution 38 of September 28, 1940):—

The Council recommends to the Senate that the Degree of LL.B., honoris causa, be conferred on Dr. P. Basu, Vice-Chancellor of the University.

Dr. Ishwari Prasad: Mr. Vice-Chancellor, as one of the oldest members.....

Rev. J. C. Chatterji: I am very sorry to interrupt you I feel that if we pass this resolution and take up the next one, it will probably be more in the fitness of things that whatever the members of the Senate desire to say on the subject should then be said. I am not shutting you up. I am merely making a suggestion.

Mr. Kalka Prasad Bhatnagar proposed and Mr. Sharda Prasad Saxena seconded that the resolution be adopted.

Dr. Ishwari Prasad: If some members of the House wants, to say anything about this motion, it would be open to other members of the House to discuss it.

Rev. J. C. Chatterji: Wait and see.

Babu Chhail Behari Capoor: I feel very much embarrassed at the moment for the resolution is a personal one. I am aware it is conventional not to oppose such personal resolutions—resolutions for conferring honours on individuals. At the same time I feel that I must give expression to the views which I hold on certain aspects of this question. Perhaps the House will remember that on another occasion when a similar motion came before this House, I submitted that it was not altogether right for the Executive Council, though it is certainly within its competence, to recommend its own members for.....

Rev. J. C. Chatterji: I am sorry to interrupt you. Are you supporting the resolution, or are you opposing it?

Babu Chhail Behari Capoor: I am opposing the resolution. As a matter of fact, I did not originally intend to oppose the resolution and had therefore given notice of an amendment, but that amendment has been disallowed by your predecessor.

Rev. J. C. Chatterji: Not my predecessor, but the Vice-Chancellor. I am not Vice-Chancellor now.

Babu Chhail Behari Capoor: Well, it was disallowed by Dr. Basu. That fact has compelled me to take up the attitude which I have taken up. As a matter of fact, I do not really want at the moment anything else than the consideration of the general principles which ought to govern the award of honorary degrees. I am however left no option and have, therefore, to oppose the resolution in order to have an opportunity of saying what I want to say. I feel, sir, that it is, to say the least, awkward for the Executive Council to submit to the Senate the names of its own members for conferment of such degrees, while they are still its members. It would be much more in the fitness of things if the Executive Council changed its procedure in this respect and submitted names for such honours after their owners had ceased to be its members. In that case the recommendation would be considered by the public to be a genuine recommendation. I do not assert that the recommendation on the present occasion does not reflect that the genuine feelings of the Executive Council for the simple reason that I do not know it. My reason is different. It was said by the Chief Justice of a High Court, some time ago, that it was not enough for Judicial officers to do justice but they ought in addition to make it appear to the public that what they have done is nothing but justice. This principle so enunciated by such a high functionary applies not only to Judicial work but to activities in other fields as well. A public functionary, who wants to command the confidence of the public should not content himself with merely doing the right thing, but should also make it clear that what he has done is right and nothing but right. While a gentleman is a member of the Executive Council and the Executive Council decides to recommend his name for the conferment of such honour, the action of the Executive Council is apt to be misunderstood. As I said, the Executive Council would be doing the gentleman concerned greater honour, if his name was recommended for the conferment of an honorary degree, after his connection with the University had ceased. That is one aspect of the matter.

Mr. M. M. Shareef: On a point of order, is the gentleman trying to oppose the motion before the House, or is he trying to suggest a different method for the award of these degrees?

Rev. J. C. Chatterji: I understood from the honorable gentleman that he is opposing the resolution and I am prepared to give him a certain amount of latitude in developing his argument.

Dr. S. K. Mukerji: Is the House discussing Resolution No. 3, 4, or 24? (laughter).

Rev. J. C. Chatterji: I thought you knew what it is about. May I request you, Mr. Chhail Behari Capoor, to be as brief as possible? You already have had six minutes.

Babu Chhail Behari Capoor: I have dealt with the general aspect. There is also one other, a personal, aspect of the question. I fear that the Senate would not perhaps like to hear what I would want to say on the personal aspect and therefore I deliberately refrain from giving expression to my views on that aspect of the question. It is not that I have no views to offer on that aspect, but if I were to express those views it would cause unpleasantness. For that reason I am not dwelling any more on that aspect of the question. I do, however, oppose the resolution.

Dr. Ishwari Prasad: It is my misfortune that I am unable to see eye to eye with my esteemed friend Mr.

Chhail Behari Capoor on the resolution that has been sent to the Senate by the Executive Council. Many of us know Mr. Chhail Behari Capoor. He is a tried public man with plenty of experience and his opinions are generally entitled to weight. But it is a matter of great pity that he is very much misinformed about matters relating to this University. A motion like this should have passed through the Senate without any opposition, because I consider that there are weighty reasons which lie behind it. I was looking up the other day a report of one of the most renowned universities in the United Kingdom and in that report I came across a passage in which the conferment of honorary degrees was discussed. Honorary degrees are conferred on all classes and sorts of persons. They are conferred upon the occupants of Royal Thrones and other distinguished men, but generally it seems to me they are meant for three classes of people. They are meant for rich people who make great benefactions to universities. They are meant for those who render great services to the community in the social and the educational fields. They are meant for those learned men who by their researches extend the frontiers of knowledge and shed the splendour of their genius upon the foundations to which they have the honour to belong. Dr. Basu is an old educationist, a well-known teacher and if the Fates had been Kinder to him he would have found a place among the immortals of Learning. He would have achieved great distinction as a scholar. But the administrative duties have had a great fascination for him and this has prevented him from devoting much time to research work. A Doctor's degree is earned by merit and I do not think the Executive Council has done anything improper or unseemly in conferring a degree upon a man of Dr. Basu's eminence and educational experience. He has already earned a Ph.D. by dint of labour, by scholarship and learning and as I have said if he had pursued his researches he might have obtained greater scholastic honours. I do not think that a man of his eminence and abilities should go without recognition at the hands of the Senate. Dr. Basu is a man who would have made his mark in any society, University or deliberative assembly. He is a man of first class talents and the Senate will be only doing its duty in recognising the work that he has done for this University. I am sure the members of the Senate will accept this motion with pleasure.

Mr. Sharda Prasad Saxena: I wish to say a few words in regard to the opposition offered by Mr. Chhail Behari Capoor to the recommendation of the Executive Council. For some time past I have been noticing a series of contributions in certain papers casting aspersions on the administration of this University and directly or indirectly criticising the gentleman who presides over the affairs of this University. From one of these communications I learned that unfortunately on account of his ill-health the gentleman who was taking so keen an interest in the affairs of this University would not be able to present himself personally to see to it that those criticisms which he had uttered through the medium of newspapers, he should have an opportunity of voicing them in person in the Senate. We are very glad to notice that Mr. Chhail Behari Capoor has personally come here at some considerable inconvenience and at an age when most people probably in the circumstances in which he found himself would have curled themselves up in a silken quilt. But I have noticed, sir, that whenever personal discourtesy to any eminent individual is to be offered, Mr. Chhail Behari Capoor presents himself to accomplish it (laughter). Not only, sir, this year but also last year on a similar occasion under circumstances which must be considered unique not only in this University but in any University he uttered sentiments which were bound to be considered strange by all educational institutions and specially so by the Senate which contains the cream of educational institutions. Mr. Chail Behari Capoor has opposed this resolution on the ground that the Executive Council should not recommend the names of those people who are on it, implying that when a more generous Providence should take them away or snatch them away from this world in the course of years, then a posthumous honour should be conferred upon them as it sometimes happens in the case of those who earn the Victoria Cross. It is obvious that so long as they are members of this University and the University is seized of the work that they have done in the University, it is obvious that their work is present in the minds of the people who belong to the University, and it is natural that they should take the opportunity to express their appreciation of that work. For six years Dr. Basu has been Vice-Chancellor of this University. His second election as Vice-Chancellor of the University was in itself an unique event. Never before any person who occupied the office of Vice-Chancellor in this University had the proud privilege of being re-elected. The Senate in appreciation of his services not only as Vice-Chancellor but also as Dean of the Faculty of Arts, an office which he filled with extreme distinction decided to re-elect him. For many more years or at least as many years as Mr. Chhail Behari Capoor has been associated with the working of not only this University but the Allahabad University also, I believe that Dr. Basu has been associated with these two Universities. As a high officer of this University, both as Dean of the Faculty of Arts and as the twice-elected Vice-Chancellor of this University, as a man who had under his administration a wider area than that probably any other University in this country owns, a man who if he had not the distinction of what is considered to be the greatest intellectual advantage, namely, Oxford education, had yet another distinction, not less unique than this, namely, of sitting at the feet of Sir Ashutosh Mookerji, the greatest Vice-Chancellor that any University in this country has produced, Dr. Basu was gifted with ability and powers which in any University would have merited recognition. It was only natural that this University in the recognition of his service which he has rendered to it in various capacities and also in virtue of his eminence should have decided through the Executive Council to confer upon him the highest honour that it could confer on any of its office-holders.

I have been trying to find out as to why it is that this complex should be developed by certain individuals to oppose every name that signifies eminence or distinction in any degree. It appears to me, and I do not want to apply it to Mr. Capoor or to any one in particular, that a great person who had much experience of men and their character, one whom some of the people who make such a tremendous noise in the world are trying to follow, a gentleman who has left his impress upon all by his astuteness if not as a practical politician, at any rate as a theoretical politician—Machiavelli, has tried to distinguish and to analyse those things which lie at the root of private or public jealousies. He, in his own characteristic way, has maintained that one who tries to attain greatness will have to reckon with two classes of persons—those whom he overshadows and outstrips by his eminence, Machivelli calls them the lesser great ones, who cannot attain that great position themselves which he occupies in the esteem of the public and secondly, those insignificant parasites of humanity who not possessing any gifts themselves, not having the conception to imagine the doing of those services that the other renders to a higher cause yet try to detract from his merit, and by spilling the venom of their malice try to lessen the difference between themselves and him in the public eye. I do not know, Sir, how far the analysis made by one whose name is magic with the great dictators in Europe is true in the case of certain individuals.

Mr. Ramsaran Vidyarthi: May I enquire from the speaker as to whether he is referring to a name or anything which is not before the House. I think while we are discussing the conferment of a degree on a distinguished personality like Dr. Basu, the time of the Senate is wasted in thus casting aspersions on a member of the House.

Rev. J. C. Chatterji: If you are raising a point of order you cannot make a speech.

Mr. Ramsaran Vidyarthi: I only wanted to know as to the points he is referring to in his speech, as to what he is referring to.

Rev. J. C. Chatterji: I shall be very glad if the gentleman speaking on this is brief. But if my friend desires to develop characteristically I cannot prevent him.

Mr. Sharada Prasad Saxena: I do not intend to cast any aspersions on any member. I tried merely to analyse those feelings, hidden or obvious, which probably lie behind the opposition to the resolution by certain individuals.

Sir, I was going to say that Dr. Basu on account of his eminence as Vice-Chancellor of this University for two terms and on account of his administrative ability in which he has distinguished both as Vice-Chancellor and as Dean of the Faculty of Arts has earned the distinction which the Executive Council taking all things into consideration has recommended to the Senate for acceptance. I think,

Sir, when Dr. Ishwari Prasad mentioned the three classes of people who should be regarded as eminent enough to earn this kind of distinction he said nothing to which an exception could be taken. I should have been glad if, for example, exception had been taken last year when a name, which on account of its official association should not have been considered for the award of such degrees came up and yet people who ought to have known better kept quiet. After all, Sir, a thing does not necessarily become true if it is repeated ad nauseum, and no remarks which seek to cast aspersion on an eminent individual under the garb of principles can derogate from his eminence. Public conscience, Sir, in the opinion of some people is considered more susceptible to the pressure of repetition than to reason or argument. Therefore, Sir, it is that year after year on the floor of this House we have been witnessing a comedy which has ceased now to enjoy the status of a joke but has assumed the form of a public nuisance.

Khan Bahadur Rustomji Bhaiya: This is a degree which confers great honour upon the gentleman upon whom it is conferred. It is, therefore, that if anything is said too much for him or any long speeches delivered for him it amounts to flattery. If nothing is said or when anything is said against him it amounts to humiliating him in the eyes of the House. The best thing under the circumstances and the only thing which should be done and which is usually done is that the question be now put. We have heard members enough and we are going to hear them under item 24. I therefore suggest that the question be now put to the House.

The question was put and it was agreed to by 77 votes to 1.

The resolution was carried with acclamation.

5. Mr. P. D. Gupta: Mr. Chairman, I deem it a privilege to have the opportunity of moving the resolution that stands in my name on the agenda of the Senate meeting. The resolution reads as follows:—

This Senate places on record its deep appreciation of the services rendered by Dr. P. Basu during his long connection with the University, and more specially as its Vice-Chancellor for two terms.

(At this stage Dr. Basu, Vice-Chancellor, again took the chair.)

Mr. P. D. Gupta: It is hardly necessary for me to make a long speech on a motion like this. But it would not be out of place for me to say a few words about the long and meritorious services rendered by Dr. Basu to this University. It is, I believe, a matter of common knowledge that Dr. Basu is not merely retiring from the Vice-Chancellorship of this University but that circumstances have so conspired that when he goes out of the Vice-Chancellorship, he goes out of the University altogether. It is, therefore, in the fitness of things that this Senate should record its appreciation of the great work which Dr. Basu has done for this University. He has been associated with this University from its very inception. He was its Dean of the Faculty of Arts for two terms from the very beginning and when he chose to retire from that important office, the Senate elected him as the Vice-Chancellor of the University and showed its confidence in his great ability and devotion to educational work by re-electing him to this office with practical unanimity. As Principal of a College in Central India which he raised from obscurity to eminence—I do not want to belittle the importance of that College, it is a very important one—but in the making of its importance Dr. Basu has had the lion's share—all through as Principal of one of its constituent colleges for which he did a great deal, as Chairman of the Board of High School and Intermediate Education in Rajputana of which a number of constituent institutions form the important feeders of this great University, as an educationist of eminence, as one who represented the Agra University in an Inter-University Conference which took place somewhere in Europe a number of years ago, I believe that Dr. Basu has deserved nobly and well of this University (hear, hear).

It was said a few moments ago that it is not merely enough that you do justice but that you should be able to convince the public that you have done justice, that it is not merely enough that you do good but that you should be able to convince others of your goodness. Far be it from me to strike a controversial note when talking on a resolution which ought to be carried with acclamation. But I would like to suggest that Dr. Basu has earned the confidence of this University and of this Senate in a measure given to very few men in this University and the vote that was taken a few moments ago on a previous resolution was an indication of the great popularity that Dr. Basu enjoys and the hold which he has on the confidence of the educationists assembled here and on the vast body of educationists whom those assembled here represent. Dr. Basu is one of those men who would shine in any assembly, who would take the lead in any body where they may have the opportunity to shed lustre and light. That the educational institutions connected with the Agra University appreciated his great work for this University was clearly evident three years ago when, as I just said, with practical unanimity Dr. Basu was re-elected Vice-Chancellor, an honour never conferred before on any other Vice-Chancellor of this University. Dr. Basu retires from this University, but his retirement will create a great gap which I am afraid it will not be easy to fill for some years at least. He has dominated the University not in the way in which our friend Mr. Chhail Behari Capoor suggests, but he has dominated it by the force of his magnetic personality, by the charm of his manners, by the astuteness of his intellect, by the keenness of devotion for the wellbeing and advancement of this University. He carries with him, I have no doubt, the best wishes of all of us for a very long and fruitful career.

Let me digress a little and in this connection extend a most cordial welcome to Mr. J. C. Chatterji who succeeds him in this responsible office. I have no doubt that under the distinguished successor of Dr. Basu as under Dr. Basu himself the University will grow from more to more, that it will grow in strength, in popularity, and in usefulness. With these words I commend my resolution to your unanimous acceptance.

Mr. Jwala Prasad Singhal: Sir, I have had the privilege which I think most of the members present here have not had the good fortune to have and that of the greater and more intimate contact with Dr. Basu as one of his old colleagues in Holkar College and I may say from personal experience, as I am quite sure that in saying that I am not giving my own opinion but the opinion of my colleagues, that we have known Dr. Basu as not only an efficient Principal, but we have known him also for the uniform courtesy with which he has treated his colleagues.

Sir, during his regime the Holkar College has, as my friend Mr. P. D. Gupta has said, risen from a very small College with a strength of 250 students to one of the greatest Colleges in the University and one of the most—I would not say the most—but one of the most eminent Colleges in the University with a number of subjects affiliated up to M.A. degree. Just as he has shown himself as a great and eminent man in the University he has also shown himself to be a good man so far as his colleagues are concerned. On behalf of my colleagues I am proud to place this on record and have the privilege of seconding this resolution whole-heartedly which I commend to all of you.

Dr. S. K. Mukerji: May I, Sir, with your permission and with the consent of this House, move an amendment to the resolution which has just been moved by Mr. P. D. Gupta?

Mr. P. D. Gupta: I do not accept any amendment to my resolution.

Vice-Chancellor: I regret to have to give a ruling in a matter like this which concerns me personally. I would draw his attention to the rule according to which a certain time-limit is set for the notice of the amendment and without notice no amendment can be moved now. I am very sorry to have to rule this in a case in which I am personally concerned.

Dr. S. K. Mukerji: If the House would permit me to move that amendment I would like to say something. Dr. Basu has been by common consent the most successful Vice-Chancellor of this University. With one single solitary exception which we heard just now every one has been praising the work of Dr. Basu. Of course, it must be said to the credit of Mr. Chhail Behari Capoor's sincerity that he did not say anything against the abilities or eminence of Dr. Basu. All that he wanted to say was that these honorary degrees should not be conferred only so long as a person is connected with the University. But.....

Dr. L. P. Mathur: On a point of order, is the gentleman speaking on the resolution?

Dr. S. K. Mukerji: My amendment is that this House also requests His Excellency the Chancellor.....

Vice-Chancellor: I have already ruled it out.

Mr. Ramsaran Vidyarthi: Sir, I whole-heartedly support the resolution of my learned friend Mr. P. D. Gupta and my support for this resolution is based on two important grounds, firstly, on the meritorious services which Dr. Basu has rendered as Vice-Chancellor and secondly, as a man and a man of that merit which deserves respect from all men (hear, hear). It is the main reason for which I am speaking in this House. All others have known him for many years, but I have come in contact with him only for one year and in this year I have had the privilege to know that Dr. Basu has shown that character which perhaps none of the Principals of any of the Colleges has shown. Here I feel that what Dr. Basu did, should be an example to all the Principals of the Colleges in this University. He should be the ideal for all.

In these troublous days when everybody is finding himself harassed and finding his duty difficult to perform, Dr. Basu, not in British India but in an Indian State—an Indian State which is so backward in any talk of reform...

Mr. N. Padmanabhan: I object to this statement.

Vice-Chancellor: I would request Mr. Vidyarthi not to refer to it.

Mr. Ramsaran Vidyarthi: I am only referring to that admirable work which Dr. Basu has done in supporting the cause of the students and made himself popular not only among many students there (at Indore) but among all the students of this University and the province. On this occasion, while supporting on these grounds, I feel that no conscientious man should have any ground for opposing it. While the question of conferment of an honorary degree was being discussed, a member spoke against it. It sincerely pained me that a reply was given to him. I should have felt very much glad if no reference had been made of a gentleman who sounded such a note. Again I feel that the Vice-Chancellor by his capability has not only honoured this University but he has raised the standard of this University, while he was Vice-Chancellor of this University.

A criticism of the University as was published in the press, should not have been done. I wished that a suitable reply should have been given in the press which never appeared and no explanation was given to it. Here a reference to it was made in a way that did not clear the position. So I interrupted Mr. Sharda Prasad Saxena only in that spirit to clarify that point which he did not do. I never wanted to interrupt him or in any way differ from him. With these words I support this resolution and I would specially request any one of the members who may be disposed to disagree with the motion personally not to vote against it on personal grounds. This resolution should be passed unanimously without any note of dissent.

Mr. N. K. Siddhanta : Sir, it is with some diffidence and difficulty that I associate myself with the resolution which has been proposed by Mr. P. D. Gupta, the diffidence being due to personal relationships with you, Sir. But as a member of a sister University in the province and as one who has been connected with this University on its various bodies since its inception and who, therefore, has had ample opportunities of admiring your work in various administrative capacities as Dean of the Faculty of Arts and as Vice-Chancellor, I want to associate myself whole-heartedly with this resolution and accord my sincerest support to it. You have shown your abilities not only in this University and in its deliberative bodies but in assemblies and meetings of an educational nature outside the limits of this University. In the Inter-University Board and in the Inter-University Conference you have shown your command over all educational problems dealing with matters of learning as also matters of administration. For a short time you were nominated to the Legislative Council or Assembly, I believe, it was called the Council then, in order to help in the modifications proposed for amending the Agra University Act. I have been told by the then members of the Council how you influenced the opinions and decisions of the members by showing your perfect control and knowledge of all educational problems relating to the province and particularly relating to this University. I associate myself once again whole-heartedly with this resolution.

Dr. Ishwari Prasad : Mr. Vice-Chancellor, I have great pleasure in associating myself with the observations of the previous speakers. As I have sat here listening to the speeches that have been made, I have felt that it was my duty to pay my tribute to the retiring Vice-Chancellor for whom I have always had a great personal regard. As one of the oldest members of the Executive Council, the Senate and the various academic bodies of this University, it is a great pleasure to me to testify to the excellent manner in which he has discharged the duties of his onerous office. I may assure this learned house that I am not a Gaultier keeping a few paces behind chuckling in my sleeves at the success of my nefarious tactics. Nor am I a greedy person who has derived much financial benefit from the University. I am an outsider and, therefore, I am in a position to take a more dispassionate view of the work which the Vice-Chancellor has done. I knew your Vice-Chancellor in the year 1921-22 when he was a member of the Academic Council of the Allahabad University. It was there that he first made an impression of his great ability. His eloquence, his great powers of exposition, his intellectual acumen, his keenness of debate impressed all those who came in contact with him. Since then, as many older members will testify, Dr. Basu has passed from well to better daily self-surpassed. When the associated colleges were separated from the old University, Dr. Basu got an opportunity of showing his great powers of intellect and mind. From the very beginning he was associated with the most important work of this University. He and I sat on several academic bodies and I must say that Dr. Basu always gave an impression of the highest ability. It was, therefore, in the fitness of things that the Senate reposed in him its full confidence by electing him as Vice-Chancellor. Dr. Basu's career may be looked at from two points of view. You may look at him as a man and as Vice-Chancellor. Now, Sir, as a man Dr. Basu possesses great qualities. His magnetic personality, his courtesy, his patience, are all highly impressive. Even his hospitality flows in an unstinted measure (laughter). Men may come and men may go, prices may rise or prices may fall but Dr. Basu's hospitality continues as unabated as ever, and I can assure my friend, Mr. Chhail Behari Capoor, that I have seldom tasted of it myself. He is one of the kindest, most affable of men, extraordinarily patient and it is a pleasure to come in contact with him. Dr. Basu has always been very fair. It was the great Bacon who said of a judge that a much-talking judge is an ill-tuned cymbal. That I think is true of a Vice-Chancellor also. A much-talking Vice-Chancellor is an ill-tuned cymbal and Dr. Basu presiding over various bodies has always practised a very wise economy of words. He has never fettered the discretion of others and it is a pleasure, as an outsider, for me to bear testimony to the extraordinarily fair and impartial manner in which the debates in the Executive Council of this University have been carried on. Now, Sir, in these days the work of a Vice-Chancellor of this University is difficult. This University is not like the Allahabad University which is more or less a domestic concern. It caters for a large number of colleges. There are at times conflicting interests and the Vice-Chancellor is expected to hold the scales even between these conflicting interests. Dr. Basu has done this in an admirable manner (applause). His clarity of mind, his equanimity of temper and his sense of fairness have always stood him in good stead. As Vice-Chancellor he has done many things for this University. It was he who devised the scheme of extension lectures given by eminent professors in the affiliated colleges. It was he who has added a Medical Faculty to this University. It was he who has been alive to the need for training among our teachers and he has created facilities for training and lastly his work has always been characterised by a very high and deep human sympathy for the student community at large. These are the achievements of Dr. Basu. Dr. Basu might have made mistakes. I do not claim infallibility for him. If he ever made a mistake that was never due to deliberate design. It might have been due, if I may use the words of Earl Balfour, to the "malignant fidelity of an over-ripe supporter." He has never been calculated in his mistakes and I have no doubt that when the dust of controversy has subsided and the disappointment caused by election reverses has ceased to exist, men will see things in their proper perspective and Dr. Basu will be recognised on all hands as an indefatigable Vice-Chancellor who has rendered valuable service to the Agra University in particular and to the cause of education in general. I can say one thing more to the Senate with confidence that if Dr. Basu were to be compared with his contemporary Vice-Chancellors, I am sure he will be found to be as fair-minded, straightforward and efficient as any one of them.

Mr. Sharda Prasad Saxena: Mr. Vice-Chancellor, six years ago I congratulated you, on your retirement as Chairman of the Rajputana Board, on the fine work you had done there. You were then succeeded by one who has succeeded you now and I am glad, Sir, that during the six years that you have been Vice-Chancellor of this University you have added considerably to that great reputation which you built up at Ajmer. I am also glad that the prophecy which I risked then has been fulfilled by your successor today by the vote of the Senate as Vice-Chancellor of the University. It must give you a great deal of satisfaction to find that on your retirement from this University you leave enlarged every sphere of work in a high degree. Six years ago the number of students, especially of women students, was a very small one. In these six years the constituent colleges that now form almost a federation of colleges comprising the U. P. and a large part of India outside the jurisdiction of this province, Central India, Rajputana and Ajmer, etc., their number has risen to 19; a number of faculties have been added and a number of new colleges have sprung up which did not exist then—I am particularly speaking of the college which is exclusively devoted to the education of women at Gwalior. And now when you are going to lay down the reins of your office it must be a source of great satisfaction to you to feel that already we are near the attainment of having a training college at Ajmer and that the Medical School at Agra will be raised to the status of a medical college. During all these years of your Vice-Chancellorship you have commanded the respect, and may I add the affection, of all. You have used your great gifts in the service of this University and those who had built up high hopes in regard to your career have now the pleasure of realising that their hopes have been more than fulfilled. There has appeared lately it is true a certain amount of criticism in regard to the affairs of this University. But I say, Sir, that no College or no University is immune from such criticism. Even in their best days the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge were not free from criticism such as has been levelled against this University. Some of the greatest men of England considered the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge as alma maters to whom they owed nothing and from whom they had derived no advantage. Among the great names who made this kind of criticism were Newman and Gibbon. No one can doubt the eminence of such great men, we may derive some satisfaction that no such criticism has been uttered by men who are counted great in regard to this University. Words of course have fallen from those who esteem themselves great in their own estimation but whose opinion with regard to this might well be questioned by others. Even that criticism, Sir, eminent as it might have been, even that criticism could not have detracted from its full merit the work that you have done as head of this University. It is not only as a great administrator, it is not only as a man to come into whose contact has been, at least to me, a liberal education, it is not only as one whose mind is stocked not only with the subject with which he is immediately concerned but I should say who made all knowledge his province, it is not only in this respect that this University has felt, the influence of your mind but also in regard to those social qualities which you practised with such distinction at a time when we are passing through a difficult period when great empires and great republics are under the shadow of a great disaster, the need for those things that you value so much, humanity and culture, loyalty to friends and devotion to the work to which an individual has applied himself and which are in danger of being removed from the seats that they have occupied till now was never greater. When the horror of war is lifted from our heads and the shock of circumstances that each one of us is feeling is over, I know that the memory of your good manners, of your affability, of your loyalty to friends and your devotion to all good causes will still be cherished by all those who came into contact with you. Whenever you entered a room we never felt that a block of ice has been introduced into it. We felt all that warmth and sunshine which one feels in the presence of a sympathetic personality. Members of the Senate and even those who were not members of the Senate never felt the kind of awe that falls upon them who pursue their studies in the sixth form when a headmaster like the one, Sir, whom I have the privilege to have on my left, enters the room. We felt you were one who belonged to us and therefore now that you are going to lay down the high office which you occupied with such high distinction, we feel that the gaiety of the Senate will be eclipsed and that we shall miss that warmth and sunshine that your presence used to bring to us. I have no doubt whatever that even though you may be far from the Senate and from us you will always cherish in your mind an affectionate memory of the Senate and of the University and, Sir, of all those who came into contact with you.

Begum Aizaz Rasool: Sir, it gives me great pleasure to associate myself with all that has been said about you. I have been only connected with this University, Sir, for one year, but on the very first day that I came here and met you I was struck by your consistent courtesy and charm of manner. As regards your ability, Sir, that can be gauged by the fact that you were elected Vice-Chancellor of this great body for the second term of three years, which in itself is a unique distinction. The Agra University, Sir, comprises the largest area amongst the Universities of the United Provinces, the number of colleges affiliated to this University is very large, and includes colleges outside the U. P. You have carried on the work of this University with great ability and that is a proof of the depth of your knowledge and understanding of all the intricate problems connected with University administration. It is with very great pleasure that I stand up today to associate myself with all that has been said about you. I hope you will live long and devote your spare time to enriching the field of knowledge and learning by your researches and learning. With these few words, Sir, I heartily support the resolution.

Babu Chhail Behari Capoor: I join the last speaker in her prayer for your long life, in spite of what I have said in opposing the previous resolution concerning you. Dr. Ishwari Prasad has referred to your hospitality. It appears that your hospitality is going to become a historical fact. I have not had the privilege of enjoying that hospitality. At the same time I freely confess that even if I had been partaking of that hospitality every day and every night, on account of my unsociable and incorrigible nature I would have still held exactly the same views which I am expressing this morning. It appears that there are in this House, as there are outside certainly, some people who think that most questions have only one side. I rather feel that almost every question has two sides and I do not see why anybody should feel touchy if the other side of the question is presented by one who disagrees with him.

The gentleman from Cawnpore who spoke on the previous resolution referred to Machiavelli to make out that I was opposing that resolution because I had some personal end in view. I assure him, as I assure other members of the House, that I have no axe to grind—no personal object to attain (hear, hear). I merely like to say what I feel. As a matter of fact, I could have said much more but I deliberately refrained from saying it and it appears that my self-imposed restriction has led certain quarters to imagine that there was nothing to be said.

Mr. Sharda Prasad Saxena: Is he opposing the resolution or speaking for it?

Vice-Chancellor: Go on.

Babu Chhail Behari Capoor: As I said that there are two sides to almost every question. I wanted to present the other side when speaking on the previous resolution. This I could not have done while speaking on this resolution. The present resolution raises a purely personal issue and I would not like to say anything which might lead to a controversy.

Dr. L. P. Mathur: I am a zoologist by profession and I had no desire to stand upon my legs and hear my own voice until I was provoked by the last speaker. My friend talks of the two sides of a picture. There are two types of animals—some are diurnal while others are nocturnal. I admit that there are two sides of a picture. But most of us, I am sure, would like to have a look at the bright side of the picture, and yet there are others who always like to go to the other side and act as drain-inspectors. I have no desire to hear more of my own voice and yet I would like to mention just one fact which has been overlooked even by my observant and learned friend, Dr. Ishwari Prasad. He has given us a list of the various activities of Dr. Basu during the last six years. But I wonder how he missed it, the most important one—I am referring to the scheme of research libraries. Here we are in this hall with all these almirahs (full of advanced books) in front of us and behind us. Would you believe me when I say that here in this hall we have the complete set of literature at least on one subject and this subject deals with reptiles (laughter). Dr. Basu has done a great service to the cause of education by providing us with this uptodate library.

Mr. Siddhanta: What a dangerous subject.

Dr. L. P. Mathur: That is my job. I am a zoologist and a snake-charmer too. Another point which I can recall at the present moment is this. On one fine morning, I received a packet from Dr. Basu. As I opened it I found that that packet contained a copy of the address which he had delivered as the Chairman of the Reception Committee of the Science Congress session which was held in that particular year at Indore and I may say that it was a great pleasure to go through that address. He is not only a master of his own subject—Economics—but he is a versatile genius. I would recommend to all those who have not had the pleasure of reading it to try and get a copy of the address and see the masterly way in which he has tried to deal with the various branches of science in a popular form. Not only has he given the details of the latest scientific problems in the various branches of science but he has actually thrown out definite hints and suggestions for advanced work on these problems. In the end, I would very gladly take this opportunity of associating myself with the motion before the House.

Dr. P. L. Srivastava: As one hailing from a sister University, I consider it my privilege to associate myself whole-heartedly with the resolution that has been moved by my esteemed friend Mr. P. D. Gupta. Many people have spoken on this resolution and there seems hardly anything I can say about yourself which has not been already said. I have not been connected with the University in the manner in which Dr. Ishwari Prasad and Mr. P. D. Gupta have been connected. But I know of no Vice-Chancellor either of this University or of any other University near about who has during his association with the University received the same co-operation and goodwill from the members of the various bodies with which he has been connected as you, Sir, have received (applause). To my mind that is the highest tribute which I can pay to you at the time of your retirement, that you have been the real leader of men, you have received co-operation from the members of the Senate, members of the various Faculties and various bodies as no other Vice-Chancellor has received either in this University or other Universities. You are a democratic leader and, Sir, I wish you well in your retirement and I hope that during your retirement too you will continue to take the same lively interest in the affairs of this University as you have so long taken. We wish you well in your retirement and we hope we will often see you here in this University. With these words I beg to associate myself whole-heartedly with the resolution that has been moved by Mr. P. D. Gupta. I hope the House will pass it unanimously.

Vice-Chancellor: I now put the motion before the House.

The motion was found carried with acclamation unanimously.

Vice-Chancellor: Members of the Senate, there are moments in a man's life when he is at a loss to find adequate words in giving full expression to his feelings. Such a moment has come to me today. On the eve of my retirement from the office of Vice-Chancellor, I find all around me faces of friends who have worked with me for a long time. The success of the work and also the failure are as much yours as they are mine. Yet this occasion gives me great satisfaction for the highest reward that a man can receive next after the satisfaction of his own conscience is the approbation of his fellows with whom he has worked together. In my work as Vice-Chancellor as also in more restricted spheres of my activity elsewhere, I have always tried to pursue one object, namely, to get together as many people as possible who are interested in seeing the work efficiently done. Therefore I have always tried to hear opposite views from men and discover points of agreement rather than of divergence. For this some of my friends, in their impatience, have called me weak. But I have never despaired of a man's co-operation till I was convinced that his criticism was meant to be personal and not for a cause. It is not for me to judge how far I have succeeded in carrying through the University work. I know that on many occasions I failed. I also know that on many more occasions I would have failed but for the loyal and continuous support which I received from a very large number of members of the University bodies. I shall always be grateful for this and I shall also be grateful for the affection which today makes you attribute to me the whole credit, to a large share of which you could have laid a genuine claim. I hope that I am not oblivious of the fact that your support raised me to a very high position in the educational life of the country. This was no part of the original ambition of my life. The dream of my childhood, the aspiration of my youth was translated into fact when I became the head of a first-grade institution under the University. And it is one of the greatest source of satisfaction to me that as Vice-Chancellor or otherwise, I have never betrayed the cause of welfare of the rising generation of the country (hear, hear). I would not have been worthy of your great trust if even unconsciously I had ever done so. May we never forget that the strength of the moral stamina of a nation lies deep-rooted in the moral fibre of its young men and women. I hope that no one will be judged merely by the success or failure of the immediate work without a proper essay of his motives. In spite of the fact that now I look somewhat decrepit, in my younger days I used to be fond of cricket. Cricket like life is a great game and what matters most in cricket is also true of life for "when the great Scorer comes to write against your name he will write not that you won or lost but how you played the game" (applause).

Dr. Ishwari Prasad: May we adjourn for a few minutes so that we may resume our business in right earnest.

The Senate then adjourned for nearly 15 minutes.

6. Dr. L. P. Mathur moved and Mr. P. P. Sahani seconded that the Degree of Doctor of Science be conferred on Mr. Vishwambhar Puri, M.Sc., who was examined and found worthy of the degree. (Vide Executive Council Resolution No. 72 of December 9, 1939).

The motion was agreed to.

7. Mr. M. N. Tolani moved and Mr. P. P. Sahani seconded that the Degrees of Master of Arts and Bachelor of Arts be conferred on the candidates who had qualified in the examinations of 1940. (Vide Appendix A).

The motion was agreed to.

8. Dr. L. P. Mathur moved and Mr. M. N. Tolani seconded that the Degrees of Master of Science and Bachelor of Science be conferred on the candidates who had qualified in the examinations of 1940. (Vide Appendix B).

The motion was agreed to.

9. Dr. Brijendra Swarup moved and Mr. P. P. Sahani seconded that the Degrees of Bachelor of Laws be conferred on the candidates who had qualified in the examination of 1940. (Vide Appendix C).

The motion was agreed to.

10. Mr. Kalka Prasad Bhatnagar moved and Mr. Vishnu Swarup seconded that the Degree of Bachelor of Commerce be conferred on the candidates who had qualified in the examination of 1940. (Vide Appendix D).

The motion was agreed to.

11. Dr. L. P. Mathur moved and Mr. P. P. Sahani seconded that the Degree of Bachelor of Science in Agriculture be conferred on the candidates who had qualified in the examination of 1940. (Vide Appendix E).

The motion was agreed to.

12. Dr. Ishwari Prasad proposed and Dr. L. P. Mathur seconded that, under Section 32 of the Act, the Annual Report of the University for the year 1939-40, prepared under the direction of the Executive Council, be adopted.

Mr. R. S. Vidyarthi: On page 7, No. 3 it is given, this year the Senate passed Statute No. 3 for condoning attendance of students who may have engaged in any work connected with the present war. I do not find it in the proceedings of the Senate of that year.

Vice-Chancellor: Instead of students it should be staff.

Mr. R. S. Vidyarthi: I have to make one or two observations about it. One is that I find that in various colleges M.A. classes are there even with one student, which is rather expensive. I think that their number should be fixed.

Vice-Chancellor: That point cannot be discussed here. If you want to take any action on these facts the proper statutes should be amended and you have to bring a proposal for amendment of the statutes.

Mr. R. S. Vidyarthi: I also find that from year to year certain temporary appointments are being made to colleges.

Vice-Chancellor: It is a question of policy about colleges.

The report was adopted.

13. Under Section 33 (1) of the Act, the Budget Estimates of the University for the year 1941-42, framed by the Executive Council, were submitted to the Senate. The Vice-Chancellor said that they had already been circulated.

Dr. Ishwari Prasad moved and Mr. Sharda Prasad Saksena seconded that the Budget Estimates be passed. The motion was agreed to.

14. Under Section 33 (2) of the Act, the Annual Accounts and Audit Report for the year 1939-40 were submitted to the Senate.

Vice-Chancellor: The Finance Committee and the Executive Council met only yesterday. Last time the Executive Council met was towards the end of September. Usually we meet about the middle of October, but this time owing to Ramzan we met in September. At that time the Audit Report was not ready. Therefore the Finance Committee and the Executive Council considered the Audit Note only yesterday and their proceedings have been placed on the table.

Mr. Sharda Prasad Saksena moved and Dr. S. K. Mukerji seconded that the Annual Accounts and the Audit Report be adopted.

Mr. K. C. Chatterji: I find in the resolution which was adopted by the Executive Council yesterday the following:—

Resolved further that in the opinion of the Executive Council the Auditor goes beyond his province in objecting to the payment of travelling allowances which are made in accordance with the Regulations of the University.

I do not find in the Auditor's Report any objection as regards payment of travelling allowances.

Dr. Ishwari Prasad: There is a supplementary Audit Note No. 6.

Mr. K. C. Chatterji: Here he says "In the light of the above, the scale of travelling allowance prescribed for the Vice-Chancellor appears to need reconsideration." That is no objection. He only recommends to the University reconsideration of the rates. I do not think it means objection. Dr. Ishwari Prasad, will you kindly read the above sentence? If you read it you will find that he only makes some recommendation and not an objection. The reply that is given is not in order.

Dr. Ishwari Prasad: May I say a word about this?

Mr. K. C. Chatterji: My contention is that the resolution that has been adopted by the Executive Council is not in order.

Vice-Chancellor: You must make a formal motion.

Mr. K. C. Chatterji: Therefore, I oppose the remarks against the Audit Report.

Vice-Chancellor: The motion at present is that the Report be adopted. Will you move a specific amendment?

Mr. K. C. Chatterji: I propose that this should not be adopted. The section of the agenda says, "To submit, under Section 33 (2) of the Act, the Annual Accounts and Audit Report for the year 1939-40." There has been a proposal just now to adopt it. I oppose that resolution on account of this fact.

Babu Chhail Behari Capoor: It appears that the financial position of the University is still far from sound. It was extremely bad at the beginning of 1939, for I find that at the beginning of that year your opening balance was no more than Rs. 209. Your budget amounts to Rs. 1,76,000 and if with such a big budget you are reduced to the condition of having such a small opening balance you are very near financial bankruptcy. At the end of 1939-40 the condition was slightly better but still far, very far indeed from satisfactory. It seems to me that there is a very easy method at hand by which we can improve our financial position. The Auditors have been urging for several years past that we should curtail the scale of travelling allowances. I myself once moved the Executive Council to curtail this scale, but neither the Auditors' suggestions nor my own was favourably considered by the Executive Council. Such being the position, it seems to me that it is time to request the Executive Council once again to reopen the question and to reduce the scale. If the scale be reduced, we shall be saving several thousands of rupees a year and the financial stringency will disappear automatically.

Nawab Isma'il Khan: I rise to a point of order. My friend's objection relates to the Budget Estimates and not to the Audit Report. Now we are considering the Audit Report. The Budget Estimates have already been passed.

Vice-Chancellor: I understood Mr. Chhail Behari Capoor to be speaking on the supplementary Audit Note No. 6.

Babu Chhail Behari Capoor: I do not know the number.

Vice-Chancellor: There can be no general discussion.

Babu Chhail Behari Capoor: As I have pointed out the Auditors have repeatedly urged that travelling allowances should be curtailed.

Vice-Chancellor: Where is that?

Babu Chhail Behari Capoor: In their note. Anyway, my argument remains unaffected because the financial position is still far from satisfactory.

Vice-Chancellor: I am afraid the speech you are making should have been delivered on the previous item concerning Budget Estimates.

Babu Chhail Behari Capoor: I resume my seat.

The Annual Accounts and Audit Report were passed.

15. The Senate then proceeded to elect, under Section 3(1) of the U. P. Intermediate Education Act, 1921, and the explanation appended thereto, three persons to serve on the Board of High School and Intermediate Education, U. P. The following three names were proposed:— (1) Mr. K. P. Bhatnagar, (2) Mr. Badri Prasad Mathur and (3) Khan Bahadur Syed Raza Husain. There being no other names they were declared elected.

16. The Senate re-elected the following six persons to serve on the Board of High School and Intermediate Education, Rajputana (including Ajmer-Merwara), Central India and Gwalior, with effect from the date of the Annual Meeting of the Board in October, 1941:— (1) Dr. L. P. Mathur, (2) Mr. S. C. Chatterji, (3) Mr. Sharda Prasad Saksena, (4) Mr. A. C. Dutt, (5) Mr. C. Mahajan, and (6) Mr. D. P. Bhattacharya.

17. The Senate next considered the reports of the sub-committee appointed by the Senate under its Resolution No. 11 of November 17, 1939, to look into the finances of the University. (Vide Appendices F and F1).

Mr. R. C. Gupta: On a point of information. This committee was appointed by the House last year and its members were also appointed by the Senate. The committee held two sittings. Unfortunately I am one of the members who could not attend the second meeting. I thought that the entire work of the committee would not be over at that meeting. The reports of the proceedings of the two meetings all of a sudden were received by me some time in the month of May, 1940. I expected that after the proceedings were over a report would be drawn up and circulated to all the members for their signatures or note of dissent, if any. But this procedure was not adopted.

Vice-Chancellor: What is the motion or resolution that you are moving?

Mr. R. C. Gupta: A point of information.

Vice-Chancellor: I am afraid I must rule that out of order. I am afraid I cannot answer any question here unless you give proper notice.

Mr. R. C. Gupta: I only want information for the House. I don't want to make a motion.

Vice-Chancellor: Unless there is a motion before the House I don't allow any discussion. You have to move a resolution which is in order before I allow discussion.

Mr. R. C. Gupta: I only want some information if you want to give it.

Vice-Chancellor: You should have sent a question to the office 20 days before the meeting.

Mr. R. C. Gupta: I have asked for some information at the end of my report and that information atleast should be available.

Vice-Chancellor: No notice of questions was given. Unless a question was received in office, I cannot answer that question at all now.

Mr. R. C. Gupta: Having been overruled by the chair on the point that I am entitled to information.

Vice-Chancellor: You are entitled to information but only when you put a question with proper notice.

Mr. R. C. Gupta: I do not know what that proper notice is. I submitted my report.

Vice-Chancellor: Will you please let me know your motion? There must be some motion before the House before I allow discussion. If you have got no resolution I shall ask somebody else to move a resolution.

Mr. P. D. Gupta: I propose that the report be passed on to the Executive Council for consideration and submission to the next meeting of the Senate.

Dr. Narayan Prasad Asthana: I beg to move that the report be referred back to the same committee for further consideration and report at the next meeting of the Senate.

Mr. P. D. Gupta: I have moved that the report be passed on to the Executive Council for consideration and report at the next meeting of the Senate.

Dr. Narayan Prasad Asthana: I moved an amendment that the report be referred to the original committee in order to send a fuller report. They have said that they did not have sufficient time. I wish that the matter may be referred back to the same committee to reconsider the report.

Vice-Chancellor: The amendment of Dr. Asthana is that the report be referred back to the committee for a fuller report.

Rai Saheb Madan Mohan Seth: I second Dr. Asthana's amendment.

Dr. Ishwari Prasad: Is it a fact that a member dissented from the opinion expressed by other members of the committee and that his note is not here?

Vice-Chancellor: No note was received in time.

Dr. Narayan Prasad Asthana: It is not with us.

Vice-Chancellor: Unless you give proper notice it is not fair on the part of the House to ask me to give information on matters which happened since February last. The first meeting of the committee was held in February last and for the convenience of a particular member of the committee a particular date and a particularly unusual time was fixed for that meeting of the committee, but that member did not turn up. Then within two weeks or so in April that report was sent out to members and towards the end of September suddenly I received a long note supposed to be a minute of dissent. Before that his arguments should have been discussed by that member in the committee. The utmost I can do is to withdraw this item and have all the points considered by the committee. Unless the majority of the members of the committee have an opportunity to consider the whole thing, I would not allow a minute of dissent to come as a surprise.

Mr. R. C. Gupta: I should be permitted to explain my minute of dissent.

Vice-Chancellor: I am afraid I cannot allow any explanation. The amendment before the House is that it should be sent back to the committee. I must ask Mr. R. C. Gupta to take his seat.

Mr. Karan Singh Kane: I want to know whether it is the usual procedure that the minute of dissent should be discussed by the committee. I think this is not the procedure.

Vice-Chancellor: That is the practice of this University.

Mr. R. C. Gupta: May I know the rule under which this note of dissent is considered by the other members of the committee ?

Vice-Chancellor: The motion before the House is that the matter be referred back to the committee for a fuller report.

Pandit Joti Prasad Upadhyaya: The mover of the amendment has not given any grounds for moving this amendment.

Mr. Karan Singh Kane: What is the rule of procedure under which a note of dissent is to be considered by the committee ?

Vice-Chancellor: I won't allow any discussion on that ruling. The question before the House is the amendment moved by Dr. Asthana that it may be referred to the committee for a fuller report, and it is open to discussion.

Mr. P. D. Gupta: In view of the Vice-Chancellor's observations I accept Dr. Asthana's amendment and it becomes the substantive resolution.

Vice-Chancellor: That amendment now becomes the substantive proposal.

Mr. R. C. Gupta: While supporting the proposal I would like to give reasons why it is necessary to send back the report.

Rai Bahadur Pandit Joti Prasad Upadhyaya: I just wanted that certain reasons must be given before the matter is referred back to the committee.

Mr. R. C. Gupta: I might tell you that a sub-committee was appointed to go into the finances of the University as a whole. The report will show that only certain items were considered. There were two meetings of the committee. At the first meeting of the committee only preliminaries were discussed. The second meeting was fixed but unfortunately on account of very urgent work of a professional nature I had to leave Agra and the entire enquiry was finished at that meeting. Therefore, I was unable to participate in the debates and understand the reasons of the members who came to those particular conclusions. The only course open to me was to append my minute of dissent. I considered all those points in the manner in which the majority of the members discussed and I gave my own reasons in my report.

Mr. Sharda Prasad Saxena: Is he supporting the motion or giving a personal explanation ?

Mr. R. C. Gupta: I was just submitting as to why this report should be sent back to the committee. This report of mine which was really a note of dissent was not circulated to the members of the Senate. I thought that if my report would have been before hon'ble members of this House, they might have come to conclusions different from those which have been arrived at by the majority of the members of the committee. But unfortunately that report of mine was not circulated. I made a specific request for its circulation and I sent another letter by way of reminder. Neither of my letters was even acknowledged. It was really a sort of insult to a member of the House that the office should have the audacity of not even acknowledging the receipt of the letter.

Vice-Chancellor: I am afraid I must ask the speaker to confine himself to the motion. The office has nothing to do with this matter.

Mr. R. C. Gupta: My report is not before the House and they have not considered it and I had not the opportunity of discussing matters with the other members of the committee and they had not the opportunity of discussing those matters with me. For these reasons I submit that really a grave injustice has been done to a member of the committee appointed by the Senate. As my note has not been considered it is absolutely necessary that the report should be sent back to the same members and, if necessary, some more members might be added. It is absolutely necessary that the entire matter should be gone into again. I find and you will be able to know from my minute of dissent that there are a lot of matters for further consideration. The economies suggested in the report are very little. I have submitted a long list of economies which if accepted would effect a saving of at least Rs. 25,000 to Rs. 30,000 a year. Therefore, it is necessary that the report should be sent back and it should be duly considered. It would be in the interests of the University itself that some more meetings should be called, all avenues should be explored and matters should be discussed. I submit that before we leave this item, the House should instruct this committee that a proper report should be drawn up and should be circulated to all the members and that the members should have an opportunity of writing out their notes of dissent, if any. Merely the distribution or circulation of the reports of certain meetings can not be considered to be reports of the sub-committee. With these words, I strongly support the motion of my friend, Dr. Asthana.

Mr. P. D. Gupta: Even at the risk of appearing rather fickle, I must confess that after hearing Mr. R. C. Gupta I have revised my opinion and must insist on my original resolution that the report should be sent to the Executive Council and not sent back to the committee.

Vice-Chancellor: After having adopted Dr. Asthana's amendment I am afraid this is not possible.

Mr. P. D. Gupta: Then I rise to oppose it.

Vice-Chancellor: Mr. Gupta is not in order in trying to revise his own motion; but he is in order if he opposes it.

Dr. L. P. Mathur: He has already accepted Dr. Asthana's motion.

Mr. M. M. Sharif: On a point of order. Can Mr. Gupta revise his own motion?

Vice-Chancellor: I have already ruled on that point of order that he cannot revise his own resolution, but he has a right to speak on the motion.

Rai Bahadur Pandit Joti Prasad Upadhyaya: Mr. Gupta has already made a speech on this point. He cannot make a second speech.

Mr. P. D. Gupta: After hearing Mr. R. C. Gupta's arguments, I felt that there was no case made out at all for referring back the report to the committee which sent it. If that were done the whole matter would have to be held up for at least two years. I share Mr. R. C. Gupta's anxiety that the matter may be expedited. After all the committee has considered the matter in two meetings and if the Vice-Chancellor deems fit, we may also have the advantage of Mr. R. C. Gupta's minute of dissent. The Executive Council will have all the material to be in a position to consider and decide on the matter, and we shall have the recommendations of the Executive Council. I therefore do not see any reason for referring back the report to the committee which has already considered the matter. I therefore oppose Dr. Asthana's amendment.

Mr. Kalka Prasad Bhatnagar: I rise to oppose the motion made by Dr. Asthana, which amounts to a vote of censure on the committee that was appointed by the Senate. (Cries of no, no.) If there is any member of the committee who is responsible for an incomplete report, he is my friend, Mr. R. C. Gupta. He did not attend the meeting on March 15, when the meeting was fixed in order to suit his convenience. There are always two points which are raised by some of our critics who want to economise in the expenditure of the University. One point which is a hardy annual is about travelling allowances. As regards travelling allowances, it has been pointed out several times that any economy which may be made in travelling allowances is a service rendered to Government and not to the University. Any reduction that may be made under that head would make the Government reduce the grant under that head. We do not receive a Block Grant from Government. Every item of expenditure is scrutinised by Government and whatever savings are made in the various items of expenditure would go to Government and not to us. The other point that is often raised, is about the remuneration to examiners. These are the two big items of expenditure which an affiliating University like ours has on its budget. As regards remuneration to examiners I think our rates are the same as prevail in the Allahabad University. So long as other provincial Universities do not reduce their rates, it would not be wise on our part to reduce the rates of remuneration to examiners. These are the only two important items in which we can make reductions. If we make these reductions, there should be a guarantee that these reductions can be utilized by us in some other directions. A few years ago we decided to spend about Rs. 10,000 per year on our library and these books that you find in our shelves in this hall are the product of that policy which our present Vice-Chancellor laid down. After we had spent about Rs. 20,000 for two years we received a letter from the Government that this expenditure is unauthorised. Another expenditure that we wanted to incur was on the publication of a Journal on behalf of the University in which the researches made by the students and the members of the staff of the various affiliated colleges could be published. That expenditure was also declared to be unauthorised. So at the present moment we are not masters of our purse. Whatever money we are able to save, the Government would say that that money must go to them. We know that the finances of the Government are not good. The finances of even individuals are getting worse. Every day taxes are multiplying. I think during the last two years the Executive Council has made very serious efforts to curtail expenditure and if you look at the figures in the Budget Estimates you will find that last year we made a saving and we transferred a few thousand rupees to the reserve fund. Babu Chhail Behari Capoor did not point out that we have about Rs. 60,000 in our reserve fund as well. The financial situation is not so bad as it is depicted by our critics and it has unfortunately become impossible to satisfy our critics because they do not want to be convinced and it is difficult to convince those who do not want to be convinced. No useful purpose would be served by referring back this report to that committee or to any other committee. We must leave it to the Executive Council to take any action that it deems fit. I think the present policy should continue so long as Government does not give us a Block Grant. And only then it would be possible for us to economise on travelling allowances and remuneration to examiners, and the savings thus made can be utilised in improving our library and in giving larger number of scholarships to our research scholars which we had to discontinue for want of funds.

Mr. C. Mahajan: As Dr. Asthana's motion has now become the substantive motion, may I move an amendment that the report of this sub-committee be referred to the Executive Council ?

Mr. P. D. Gupta: I second this amendment.

Mr. R. C. Gupta: What is that report ? Is it the report of the majority or the minute of dissent ?

Mr. Karan Singh Kane: I want to move an amendment to this amendment. I want the words to be added at the end of that amendment, "to be circulated with the minute of dissent of Mr. R. C. Gupta."

Mr. Sharda Prasad Saksena: There cannot be an amendment to an amendment.

Mr. R. S. Vidyarthi: We have a substantive resolution and amendment on the report of the economy sub-committee, which would not have been necessary if the suggestions had been definite. They are rather vague and they suggest something which requires to be supplemented again by that sub-committee or, if necessary, by the Executive Council. I find that this sub-committee was appointed on the criticism that there was extravagance in the expenditure of the University and the University finances were not sound. This criticism was levelled by my esteemed friend, Mr. Algurai Shastri who is not present to-day in this House. He was present in the committee but his views are not known. We do not know whether he was in perfect agreement or disagreement or what was his view. If he was not in agreement, what was his view? This report does not go to make any suggestion, it has simply given information and that information which could have been obtained even in the last meeting. If we want to reduce the expenses of the University we must have a block grant so that the saved money may be spent under other heads. Another suggestion is made that if we want to increase its income we must offer equal treatment to the students of the States' Colleges and the Colleges of U. P., which perhaps is not being done under the present rules. I think these are the two important suggestions. First of all, we should give this facility to the Executive Council or sub-committee which may take up this question again to refer it to the Senate. Otherwise they can again take this plea that there is no good suggesting any economies because they will not be utilised for our purpose, or there is no good suggesting any means of increasing its income because we cannot go to the States for help. I think these two points must be cleared in this House and we must have a definite resolution on this point and then we should refer it to the Executive Council or sub-committee for reporting further about improving our finances and making economies and increasing income. So I feel that this committee has not given us a complete report and there are not definite suggestions. Hence this report should be sent back to that very sub-committee to give us definite suggestions and with this I am trying to add two more suggestions. The first is that this Senate asks the Government to give a block grant to the University and secondly, that the necessary amendments may be made in the Act so as to give equal treatment to all the Colleges affiliated to this University, whether they are situated in U. P., Central India, Rajputana or Ajmer. With these two qualifying suggestions I support the motion of Dr. Asthana. I think if we accept his resolution without these qualifying clauses we would not give the sub-committee any facility to give us a fuller report which we are anxious to have. So this resolution is not complete in itself without making these two facilities for the sub-committee. I think while we pass that resolution we must also add these two items to it. So I am making these two suggestions for incorporation in the main resolution of Dr. Asthana. In the meantime the committee should consider economies and also suggest certain steps for increasing the income; let the two handicaps in our way be removed by the Government. I think that the mover of this amendment will accept these two suggestions and then they may be passed by the Senate. This report may be referred back to the economy sub-committee for a fuller report.

Dr. Ishwari Prasad: I beg to support the proposal of Dr. Asthana.

Vice-Chancellor: That is the original proposal. The amendment is that it be referred to the Executive Council.

Dr. Ishwari Prasad: I do not know the internal history of this committee. But if what has fallen from the lips of Mr. R. C. Gupta is correct, then I think there will be no harm in discussing all these matters afresh. I am sure you will be the last person to burke discussion on an important matter like this. The original motion of Mr. Gupta was a very unhappy one and I do not want that these recommendations should go to the Executive Council with the approval of the Senate, as it were. I suggest that these recommendations should be referred to the same sub-committee of the Senate again for other reasons and my reasons are these. As I read these recommendations I feel some surprise because some of the recommendations are so queer, so fantastic and so extraordinary that I do not think the Senate will give its approval to them. I do not want that there should be any the least difference between the Executive Council and the members of the Senate on that point. Again and again it has been said that the Executive Council has not administered the funds of the University properly. Things of that kind have been said time and again in this House as well as outside the House. Some of the recommendations are so strange that they deserve to be reconsidered by that committee again. For example, one recommendation (No. 9) is that steps be taken at places where the colleges of the University are situated to organise cinema shows for the benefit of the Agra University. I hope the members of the Senate and members of the Executive Council will not bring about a contingency of that kind that learned men belonging to this University should have to organize cinema shows.

Vice-Chancellor: May I point out that the report is in two parts. This part from which Dr. Ishwari Prasad is reading gives a number of items they considered for raising revenue. The second part is the real report. The first part is not part of the report and it is no recommendation of the committee.

Dr. Ishwari Prasad: I am sure it has influenced the decision of the committee.

Vice-Chancellor: All possible points on which more revenue could be raised were drawn up and these points were considered at the second meeting of the committee.

Dr. Ishwari Prasad: I should like this committee to bestow its consideration upon the real problem with which this University is confronted. It has been said again and again that the financial condition of the University is very bad and it is deteriorating. I am pained to find that none of the members of the Legislature with their vast influence have said a word about the Government and they have not used their powerful influence to get more support for this University from the Government. Members of the Legislature will kindly note that most of the Universities are having a deficit. The University of Allahabad, the oldest University to which I have the honour to belong, has a deficit of Rs. 70,000 and that, I suppose, is the condition of the other Universities also. (Mr. Siddhanta: No, no). I am glad to note that the Lucknow University has no deficit. As Mr. Kalka Prasad Bhatnagar pointed out, if Government gave us a Block Grant, much of the difficulty would be obviated. The one target of attack and the only target of attack is the travelling allowance paid to members. This is a matter which cannot be disposed of finally unless steps are taken by other Universities in this direction. So long as the other Universities continue to pay at the old rate it is right and fair that the University of Agra should pay at the same rates. I hope that when this report goes back to the committee all members will meet and consider the real problem of this University. I hope they will not think of cinema shows being organized by the University. I hope they will not suggest to us that we should enter into a contract with Uday Shankar and his dancing party to find funds for this University. I have no doubt they will make useful suggestions for improving the financial condition. One of the suggestions is that co-opted members be dropped. I entirely disagree with the suggestion. Co-option of some members is eminently desirable for this University. In some Faculties there are learned members who are outsiders and who are co-opted. A man like Dr. Saha for instance was co-opted by the Faculty of Science some time ago.

Rev. Canon T. D. Sully: Is he correct in saying that this is a proposal?

Vice-Chancellor: No.

Dr. Ishwari Prasad: I therefore propose that this report be referred back to the same committee for a more careful consideration.

Dr. S. K. Mukerji: I would rather support the motion that this matter be referred back to the Executive Council and I oppose the motion that it be referred back to the committee. I would, therefore, request the House to support the motion that it be referred back to the Executive Council. We have already taken up enough time, Sir, and I think we should now pass on to the next item on the Agenda.

Mr. N. K. Siddhanta: I have been listening to the speeches of my predecessors and I am afraid I have not been able to follow the viewpoints of two or three preceding speakers. The point made by Pandit Ishwari Prasad referred more to suggestions which were considered by the committee rather than to any conclusions which had been reached by them. The point on co-optation, for example, the committee made it abundantly clear that they did not want to do away with co-optation but merely to reduce the number which has a good deal of justification for itself. (Dr. Ishwari Prasad: This has been done by the Council). As regards the other points which have been raised, there might be controversies on each one of these points, but so far as I understood the amendment which is now before the House, the Senate by referring it to the Executive Council would not be committing itself to the acceptance of anyone of the suggestions which has been made by this Committee. We reserve our right to decide just what we like when it comes back to us from the Executive Council. All that we are doing at present or is proposed to be done at present is to let the Executive Council of the University pass its judgment upon the recommendations of the Committee and let the Senate have its final voice on the matter next year. As regards the arguments which have been put forward by one or two speakers either in support of the suggestions of the committee or against them, I am afraid I have not been able to agree with either. A point was made by Mr. Bhatnagar about not reducing expenditure because the money will be absorbed by Government. That would lead to the exclusion of all schemes of economy at any time. We must consider schemes of economy on their own merits. There are certain schemes which may appear right in the best academic interests of the University and others which are not. Here, for example, under sub-head (1) section (1) we find a particular proposal about answer-books, about candidates writing their answers on both sides of their answer-books, a practice to which serious objections might be taken from the point of view of candidates and from the point of view of examiners. There are points of detail like this which would have to be considered by the Executive Council. Supposing we refer the whole matter back to the same committee, what would be the good which would be served by it? We have been informed by one of the members of the committee that there were differences of opinion. All that we could suggest to the Executive Council would be to consider these different viewpoints and to come to their final decision after considering these viewpoints and after considering each question on its merits. Undoubtedly in a University like this which is made up of a huge number of constituent colleges travelling allowance must be a large item in the budget. It is not like the University of Allahabad or the University of Lucknow, which is a centralised body where we may have a few experts from outside Universities on our Faculties or Committees of Courses; but here people must assemble from the different parts of India and we have been told more than once, even today, what a large area is administered by this University. We must gather together people from different parts of India in a central place like Agra and we must pay expenses for them and the expenses have to be regulated by what is scheduled at other Universities in the province. With regard to remuneration to examiners there again we have to be guided by the sister Universities and we have to see whether the fees which are being paid by the examinees are sufficient to cover this remuneration or not. But it seems to me that it is really futile for us to go into these matters of detail. Supposing all these points were again discussed by the same committee, if they have not been able to come to a decision after the two long sittings they held, I do not suppose there would be any unanimity later on. All that the Executive Council need have to do is to have before itself the different opinions which have been expressed in the committee and then come to an independent decision in the matter. The Executive Council is made up of experts, competent people, and they will be able to form a judgment which will be seriously considered by the Senate at its next meeting.

Dr. S. K. Mukerji: I propose that the question be now put.

It was agreed to and the amendment to refer the matter to the Executive Council was carried.

Mr. M. M. Sharif: I wish to move an amendment to this. Unfortunately I am new to this Senate and therefore I do not know the real procedure which is usually followed. I wanted to move an amendment that the recommendation of the sub-committee together with the note of Mr. Gupta be sent to the Executive Council. It is unfortunate that Mr. Gupta had to leave the meeting of the sub-committee for some private reasons and the committee could not take the benefit of his opinions and his views with regard to matters and it is further unfortunate that we have not been able to know his views on the recommendations of the sub-committee. But we have yet time to consider all these recommendations made by the sub-committee, so that we may save time and the recommendations may come to us with the additional consideration of them by the Executive Council. But I should not like the Executive Council to be deprived of the suggestions made by Mr. R. C. Gupta. I think it is just and fair to a member that if by some extraordinary circumstances he was prevented from placing his views before the sub-committee, they should be placed at least before a higher body. I need not make a long speech on the subject.

Mr. Karan Singh Kane: I second this amendment. In the Legislature the usual procedure for writing minutes of dissent is that they would have to be appended to the reports of the various committees without being considered by those committees. Here, according to you, the procedure seems to be that the minutes of dissent should be considered by the committees concerned. I do not know whether it is a rule or procedure or convention. I think it seems to be very fair to Mr. Gupta that his minute of dissent should go to the Executive Council with the report of the sub-committee, so that the Executive Council may have the benefit of his note.

Mr. Sharif's motion was put and carried by the House.

18. The Senate recorded the receipt of G. O. No. 3672/XV-26435, dated December 7, 1939, conveying H. E. the Chancellor's assent, under Section 27 (5) (a) of the Act, to the amendments to Statutes in Chapter XXXIV, relating to Provident Fund, which were passed by the Senate in November, 1938.

19. The Senate recorded the receipt of the following letters from the Secretary to His Excellency the Governor of the United Provinces, conveying H. E. the Chancellor's assent, under Section 27 (5) (a) of the Act, to the Statutes mentioned against each, passed by the Senate in November, 1939:—

20. The Registrar reported the receipt of letter No. A/1639/XV-268/40, dated August 8, 1940, from the Secretary to His Excellency the Governor, U. P., saying that His Excellency the Chancellor was prepared to accept the amendments to Statutes 1 and 2 in Chapter XXXIII of the Calendar relating to Examinations—Faculty of Commerce (proposed by the Executive Council under its Resolution No. 50 of September 23, 1939, and passed by the Senate on November 17, 1939), provided the proposed amendments were so worded as to be applicable in the cases of the examinations conducted by the Universities established by law or Statutory bodies only.

NOTE.—The amendments under reference were as below.

CHAPTER XXXIII—EXAMINATIONS-FACULTY OF COMMERCE.

(Pages 241-42 of the Calendar for 1939-40.)

(Ref. Executive Council Res. No. 50 of Sept. 23, 1939.)

- (1) Delete clauses (iv) and (v) of Statute 1.
- (2) In Statute 2 delete “(iv) and (v)” appearing in line 7 on page 242 of the Calendar for 1939-40 and add in its place “or any other examination recognised by the Executive Council as equivalent to any of the examinations mentioned in clauses (ii) and (iii) of Statute 1.”

The Registrar further reported that the letter under reference was placed before the Executive Council, and the Council under its Resolution No. 47 of September 28, 1940, recommended to the Senate that the following words be inserted between the words “examination” and “recognised” in the proposed amendment to Statute 2 above:—

“Conducted by any Indian University incorporated by any law for the time being in force or any Statutory body, which may be”.

Vice-Chancellor: Some suggestions have been made by the Chancellor. Those are either to be adopted or rejected.

The Senate accepted the suggestion, and approved of the proposed modification in the amendments.

21. The Senate then took into consideration the following additions and amendments to Statutes proposed by the Executive Council under Section 27 (4) of the Act:—

I. CHAPTER XVII—AFFILIATION OF COLLEGES.

(Ref. Executive Council Res. No. 63 of Sept. 28, 1940.)

In Statute 5 delete the words "or by an Indian State" appearing in lines 2 and 3 of the Statute.

Mr. H. B. Richardson: According to Statute 27, section 6, sub-section (a) which reads as follows:

- 27 (6) (a)the Executive Council shall not propose the draft of any Statute or of any amendment of a Statute
 (b) affecting the conditions of affiliation of colleges except after consultation with the Academic Board.

I do not believe that the Academic Board has been consulted in this matter. I propose an amendment that this may be referred to the Academic Board.

Mr. D. L. B. Riley: I second it.

Vice-Chancellor: The point of order which has been raised is perfectly right. This matter can come to the Senate after it has been considered by the Academic Board and considered by the Executive Council. Therefore the matter is to be referred back to the Executive Council to send its opinion to the Senate after consultation with the Academic Board. This was agreed to.

II. CHAPTER XVII—AFFILIATION OF COLLEGES.

(Pages 132-36 of the Calendar for the year 1939-40.)

(Ref. Executive Council Res. No. 171 of April 23, 1940.)

In the new Statute 5 (passed by the Senate on November 17, 1939; vide page 116 of Minutes Vol. XIII-A), add the following after clause (A):—

B. Heads of Departments of Degree classes:—

(a) For Faculties other than Agriculture—

One having the qualification as in A above for the respective Faculties with—

(i) a first class degree in the subject, or

(ii) a second class degree in the subject with three years' experience of teaching degree classes in that subject.

(b) For Faculty of Agriculture—

(I) Heads of the Department of Agriculture—

One having B.Sc. (Ag.) and a post-graduate degree or a diploma of equal standing, with experience of teaching for five years, or with practical experience of agricultural work for five years under the Government Department of Agriculture.

(II) Heads of Departments of Science subjects other than Agriculture—

One having (i) an advanced research degree or (ii) a first or second class M.Sc. degree with post-graduate training in the subject applied to Agriculture or with three years' experience of teaching degree classes in an agricultural College:

Provided that the Executive Council may recognize a suitable foreign qualification as equivalent to any of these degrees.

Rev. Canon T. D. Sully: I understand the same mistake was made last year in this case also.

Vice-Chancellor: I don't suppose the section of the Act applies here. The whole of the matter came before the Senate when this motion was referred back to the Executive Council, the others having been passed. Under the direction of the Senate it is now coming from the Executive Council.

Dr. L. P. Mathur: May I enquire whether a mistake was made last year and if so, may we send it back to the Academic Board?

Mr. N. K. Siddhanta: Send it back to the Executive Council for sending it to the Academic Board.

Dr. Ishwari Prasad: I propose that it be referred back to the Executive Council and the authorities contemplated by the Act may be consulted before it comes to the Senate again. It relates to the conditions of affiliation and under clause (b) on page 47 the Executive Council has got to consider the opinion of the other academic bodies.

The motion was duly seconded and carried.

III. CHAPTER XVII—AFFILIATION OF COLLEGES.

(Pages 132-36 of the Calendar for the year 1939-40.)

(Ref. Executive Council Res. No. 173 of April 23, 1940.)

In clause (A) of the new Statute 5 (passed by the Senate on November 17, 1939; vide page 116 of Minutes Vol. XIII-A), add the following after the words "For Agriculture B.Sc. (Ag.)":—

"With a post-graduate degree or a diploma or practical experience of three years in the subject in an approved institution."

Vice-Chancellor: This is an amendment which has come after consideration by the Executive Council and it is open to the House to accept or reject. These are those matters which were referred by the Senate to the Executive Council for its opinion. They have come back with the opinion of the Executive Council. I am referring to item III on page 8.

Mr. N. K. Siddhanta: Items III and IV may both be referred back.

IV. CHAPTER XVII—AFFILIATION OF COLLEGES.

(Pages 132-36 of the Calendar for the year 1939-40.)

(Ref. Executive Council Res. No. 178 of April 23, 1940.)

In the new Statute 5 (passed by the Senate on November 17, 1939; (vide page 116 of Minutes Vol. XIII-A) delete the following words appearing in clause (D):—

Or having been Principal of an Intermediate or Secondary College for at least five years.

The proposal of Mr. Siddhanta was duly seconded and agreed to.

V. CHAPTER XXI—REGISTER OF STUDENTS.

(Pages 259-60 of Minutes Vol. XII-A.)

(Ref. Executive Council Res. No. 42 of Sept. 28, 1940.)

(1) Read the existing Statute 4 as follows:—

4. The application for enrolment together with the enrolment fee and the Migration Certificate from the University concerned (wherever necessary) shall be submitted by a college student through the Principal of the College concerned before the 30th of September in the academic year in which he first joins an affiliated college, and by a private candidate on or before the 1st of October in the year preceding the year in which he takes his first examination in the University.

Students seeking admission to a college affiliated to the University, and private candidates seeking admission to an examination of the University after having been admitted as members of another University incorporated by any law for the time being in force, will not be enrolled unless their applications for enrolment are accompanied by a Migration Certificate from the previous University.

Candidates who are enrolled after the dates fixed under this Statute, either on account of late submission of the application and fee, or for want of a Migration Certificate, shall be required to pay a further fee of Rs. 3 in each case; and no candidate, who is enrolled later than the 31st of December of the year preceding the year of examination will be permitted to sit for any of the next ensuing examinations of the University, and no refund of any of the fees paid by a candidate till then, will be permissible.

(2) Delete the words "and no student.....ensuing University examinations" appearing in the last three lines in para 2 of Statute 9.

(3) Delete para 3 of Statute 9.

(4) Delete Statute 10.

Vice-Chancellor: This is nothing new. The old Statute has been made clear.

The amendments were put to vote and adopted.

VI. CHAPTER XXI—REGISTER OF STUDENTS.

(Pages 259-60 of Minutes Vol. XII-A.)

(Ref. Executive Council Res. No. 61 of Sep. 28, 1940.)

In Statute 5—

(a) Substitute the word "card" for the word "register" in line 2; and

(b) Substitute the word "Register" for the words "Card index" in line 5.

Vice-Chancellor: There was a slip and it is being corrected now?

The amendments were put to vote and adopted.

VII. CHAPTER XXI—REGISTER OF STUDENTS.

(Pages 259-60 of Minutes Vol. XII-A.)

(Ref. Executive Council Res. No. 62 of Sept. 28, 1940.)

Read the existing Statute 7 as follows:—

7. Any enrolled student may, at any time, obtain a certified copy of the entries relating to him in the Enrolment Register on payment to the Registrar of a fee of Rs. 2.

A duplicate copy of the Enrolment certificate may be granted on payment of a fee of Re. 1,

Vice-Chancellor: Here also there was a mistake. We charged Rs. 2 for the original certificate and for the duplicates we charged Re. 1. But there was a mistake and we said that for duplicates also we should charge Rs. 2.

The Statute was put to vote and adopted.

VIII. CHAPTER XXIX-A—EXAMINATIONS (GENERAL).

(Ref. Executive Council Res. No. 125 of March 16, 1940 and Res. No. 20 of August 24, 1940.)

Add the following proviso to Statute 3:—

Provided that during the present war and for examinations of the year after the next academic session during any part of which the war may have been prolonged, the Executive Council may suspend the operation of this Statute in the case of any regular student of an affiliated college if the Principal certifies that the student was absent from the college in order to do work directly or indirectly facilitating the prosecution of war. The Principal shall also certify, not later than three weeks before the commencement of the examination, the definite period during which the student was so engaged in war work, and further certify that this work done by the student has been verified by him from his personal knowledge or from the testimony of an official not lower than the rank of Collector of a district or Minister of an Indian State, within whose jurisdiction or at whose direction the student was engaged in war work.

The amendment was put to vote and adopted.

Add the following as Statute 3A after Statute 3:—

- 3A. Where any person from India pursuing a course of study at any institution in Great Britain is, on account of the prevailing war conditions, unable to continue it at such institution, he may, notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in any Statutes or Regulations, be admitted under the provisions of the Act, and with the approval of the Vice-Chancellor previously obtained, to any affiliated college of the University during the period of the war, and the University may permit his attendance at a recognised British University to be counted towards his attendance for the examinations of the University and may grant and confer any degree and (or) other academic distinction to and on such person after he has pursued such course of study in an affiliated college of the University and passed such examination and on such further conditions as the Executive Council may, having regard to the courses of study pursued and the work done by such person outside India, determine:

Provided that no person admitted to the benefit of this Statute shall obtain a degree or other academic distinction sooner than he would have obtained it if he had diligently pursued a normal course of study in India.

The Statute was put to vote and adopted.

X. CHAPTER XXIX-A—EXAMINATIONS (GENERAL).

(Ref. Executive Council Res. No 167 of April 23, 1940.)

(Ref. Executive Council Res. No. 20 of August 24, 1940.)

Add the following proviso to Statute 4:—

Provided that during the present war and for examinations of the year after the next academic session during any part of which the war may have been prolonged, the Executive Council may permit any candidate to appear in the subject in which he had been placed under compartment, at any subsequent examination held during the period referred to above, if the Principal of the college concerned in the case of college students and the proper countersigning authority in the case of private candidates, certifies that the candidate was unable to appear at the examination of the year in which he ought to have ordinarily appeared as he was engaged in work directly or indirectly facilitating the prosecution of war. The Principal or the countersigning authority, as the case may be, shall also certify not later than three weeks before the commencement of the examination the definite period during which the candidate was so engaged in war work, and further certify that this work done by the candidate had been verified by him from his personal knowledge or from the testimony of an official not lower than the rank of Collector of a district or Minister of an Indian State, within whose jurisdiction or at whose direction the candidate was engaged in war work.

The amendment was put to vote and adopted.

XII. CHAPTER XXIX-C—ADMISSION OF TEACHERS TO UNIVERSITY EXAMINATIONS.

(Ref. Executive Council Res. No. 48 of Sept. 28, 1940.)

"Except the B.T., B.Sc. in Pharmaceutical Chemistry, LL.B., B.Sc. (Ag.), and M.B.,B.S. Examinations."

Vice-Chancellor: Our practice is not to allow private candidates in professional subjects like law, at University examinations requiring technical knowledge, and with a view to regularising this, necessary amendments have been proposed in appropriate places; so this thing may well find place in several instalments, viz., under items XII, XIV and XVI.

In the case of women candidates residing in British areas in Rajputana and Central India, the certificate required under this Statute should be from the Superintendent of Education, Ajmer-Merwara and Central India.

Vice-Chancellor: Items XIII, XV, XVII are the same, namely, that a private candidate should send his application through the Inspector of the Circle in which he resides. This applies to private candidates, teacher candidates and women candidates.

The amendments under items XIII, XV and XVII were put to vote and adopted.

The maximum number of marks for the thesis shall be equally divided between the two examiners, each one of whom shall mark the thesis independently.

Vice-Chancellor: Formerly we had two examiners and no provision was made if the two examiners differed. Now we are making provision for what will happen in the case of difference of opinion, also about Thesis for the M.A. or M.Sc.

The amended Statute was put to vote and adopted.

The marks obtained by the candidates in this paper shall not be counted towards their aggregate, and a separate certificate shall be granted to the candidates who pass in this paper.

A fee of Rs. 15 shall be charged from the candidates taking this paper.

Vice-Chancellor: This is a new thing particularly for science graduates where a certificate may be given to a

B.Sc. or M.Sc. in French and German. This won't be a degree but a separate examination.

The Statute was put to vote and adopted.

XX. CHAPTER XXXII—EXAMINATIONS—FACULTY

(Ref. Executive Council Res. No. 39 of Sept. 28, 1940.)

Add the following footnote to Statute 2:—

NOTE.—For purposes of determining 45 per cent marks in English at the degree examination, marks in English Literature shall be taken into account.

Vice-Chancellor: Now we have got the rule that 45 per cent should be obtained before one can take a double course. We say that this must be in English literature.

The amendment was put to vote and adopted.

22. With reference to Executive Council Resolutions No. 21 of August 24, 1940 and No. 46 of September 28, 1940, the Senate considered the following amendments to existing statutes, and new statutes for the creation of a Faculty of Medicine in the University and the institution of a degree examination in Medicine (M.B., B.S.):—

Vice-Chancellor: We are rather in a quandary about this Medical Faculty. Last year I was informed by the Government and by the authorities of the local Medical School that the local Medical School had been raised to the status of a Degree College and classes had been started. Naturally we had to turn down the proposal saying that the whole thing was irregular and therefore this should proceed in a proper form. That would mean some years before the College could be started. But I discovered that the Government was not only willing to finance but that the Government had passed an order raising the standard to a Degree College and some of the students of the 2nd year of the L.S.M.F. had gone back to the 1st year class in order to be able to become M.B.'s after the five years' course. In order that these students may be permitted to continue their studies and as Government will have to bear the expenses—I do not know whether the Government is prepared to do so—I thought that the matter might be expedited and a committee was appointed of experts from the Lucknow Medical College and also some members of the Indian Medical Council, because medical studies all over India are under the very strict supervision of the Medical Council. That committee made certain recommendations on the basis of which the Executive Council has framed these Statutes. These Statutes set up the Medical Faculty, a different Faculty. The number after full co-optation will be 12—the Principal ex-officio, three members of the staff of the Medical College, three to be elected by the Senate, and two to be elected by the Executive Council. We have followed the scheme as in the case of the Faculty of Science, Arts, Commerce or Agriculture. Only the number is smaller than in the Arts and Science Faculties. This has the approval of both the expert bodies. There was the original expert body appointed by Government and the University also appointed an expert body. Happily the two expert bodies, as rarely happens, did agree with regard to the recommendations. I take it that the thing is quite good for the M.B.,B.S. standard. If any member wants to have special information I shall be glad to give it. There is one item. It is item (4) on page 16 about the gowns for Bachelor of Medicine and Surgery. This matter need not be considered by the Senate. I withdraw this portion.

Mr. Jwala Prasad Singhal: There is item (3) on page 16. I want to know whether the Academic Board has to be consulted.

Vice-Chancellor: These are original Statutes which have been passed.

The amendments and Statutes except item (4) were put to vote and were adopted.

Mr. N. K. Siddhanta: On page 19 there is item (11). May I point out that the remuneration to examiners proposed by this University is less than the remuneration which is offered for medical examination in other Universities in Northern India. I take it that point has been taken into consideration.

Vice-Chancellor: Two experts from Lucknow are of the opinion that the Lucknow rates ought to be brought down. I asked whether by offering lower amount we would get a lower class of examiners. They said that the same grade of examiners would be available and this would be an example for Lucknow to follow.

For the information of the House I may say that the first M.B., B.S. Examination will be held in March 1941 and the Lucknow University has kindly agreed to help us in connection with that examination.

23. The Senate then proceeded to elect provisionally, under First Statute 7 (1) (e) as proposed to be amended, persons not exceeding three to the Faculty of Medicine, the first meeting of which was likely to be held in December 1940 or January 1941.

Vice-Chancellor: That is a provisional item. But if we wait for these Statutes to be finally passed, namely, until they receive the assent of the Chancellor, then the Faculty of Medicine can be constituted only next year. In order to facilitate the formation of the Medical Faculty, in anticipation of the sanction of the Chancellor we are holding this election. Therefore, the election will be valid if the Statutes are approved by the Chancellor. I request you provisionally to elect three members for the Faculty of Medicine.

The following gentlemen were duly elected:—Capt. K. P. Bagchi, 2. Mr. Bhupal Singh, and 3. Mr. T. S. Shukla.

24. The Registrar reported the receipt of letter No. A 1637/XV-272-40 dated October 11, 1940, from the Secretary to H. E. the Chancellor of the University conveying His Excellency's assent to the new Statute to be added to the Statutes (as Statute No. 5) in Chapter XVII of the Calendar for 1939-40 relating to affiliation of Colleges.

It was recorded.

25. Vice-Chancellor: Members will remember that last year we sent up a Statute according to which a student after having failed, if he went up as ex-student, was given the same facility as in the case of private candidates or women candidates. The change is in this subsequent examination which he was taking as ex-student. But the matter has been referred back to us by Government. I will read out the letter from the Chancellor (vide D. O. No. A 483/XV-270-1940 dated October 17, 1940, from the Secretary to Government, U.P., Education Department).

Please refer to your official letter No. 6735, dated April 12, 1940, forwarding for the assent of His Excellency the Chancellor, the amendment to Statute 3, Chapter XXIX-B of the University Calendar for 1939-40 relating to the readmission of ex-students to University examinations and permitting them to change their subjects for the examination.

12. Ordinarily all students who appear at a degree examination must have pursued prescribed courses of study at a recognised college. The only exceptions are—teachers, inspectors and women candidates. So far as the exemption in respect of teachers and inspectors is concerned, it is understandable and is allowed by all Universities. Men serving in educational institutions are supposed to keep themselves in touch with the subjects they propose to take at a degree examination, and, further, it is desirable that they should be given special facilities to add to their qualifications so as to increase their efficiency. The concession to women has apparently been allowed so as to encourage them to take up higher education. Private candidates falling under the above three categories can naturally choose any combination of subjects, as they are not tied down to any particular courses of study they may have been required to pursue at a recognised institution. A candidate not falling under the above three categories is not allowed to appear privately, the only exception being that a candidate who has gone through prescribed courses of study in a recognised college and has failed more than once may be allowed to appear privately. Such a candidate when appearing privately is allowed to offer only those subjects which he had studied and attended lectures in at the college for his earlier examination. The idea underlying this practice is that to enable a man to qualify for a degree, it is not sufficient that he should cram up books; he should in addition have attended the University course of lectures in each subject for a considerable period. The University now propose to change this and to allow failed students to offer other subjects in which they have not attended a single lecture. This goes directly against all accepted ideas of University Education and degrees and does not appear to be a move in the right direction. In the circumstances I am desired to ask you to reconsider the proposal and to favour Government with your views early in the matter.

The Vice-Chancellor further reported that he placed this matter also before the Executive Council at its meeting held on November 20, 1940, and the Council decided to adhere to its previous decision.

Dr. Ishwari Prasad: I propose that the amendments made by the Executive Council should be accepted because they would considerably obviate the hardships to which students reading in our colleges are subjected.

Mr. Sharda Prasad Saksena seconded and it was agreed to.

26. Mr. Sharda Prasad Saksena next moved:

That a supplementary examination be held in the month of October at Agra of candidates who fail in one subject only at the B.A., B.Sc., B.Com. examinations of the University. The candidates shall be examined in that subject only in which they have failed. On passing they shall be declared to have passed without any division being assigned to them, but in case of failure they shall have to appear at the next regular University examination in full subjects. The examination fee chargeable to such candidates shall be the same as for the regular University examination.

I move that this be referred to the Executive Council for its opinion. (Mr. Siddhanta: Not with our approval). The resolution refers to a practice which obtains in certain other Universities and I want, in order to afford the same facility to the students of this University, that this resolution be considered by the Executive Council. I therefore move that this resolution be referred to the Executive Council.

The resolution was duly seconded.

Mr. N. K. Siddhanta: The practice undoubtedly exists at certain Universities but there are practical difficulties which the Senate should be in a position to face, and which should be put before the Senate. We know that the majority of students who get through the B.A. and the B.Sc. examination want to proceed to some further studies, either for the Master's degree or in the Law Faculty. If we have a supplementary examination in the month of October we shall probably publish the results in November. What would happen to the students who get through this examination. We shall have to face agitation which is bound to be created on the part of these candidates to be allowed to attend the class in the middle of the session. In the University of the Punjab, where a supplementary examination is held, the difficulty does not exist because the session starts in the month of October. That is why it is possible for them to carry on with this. In some other Universities they have a supplementary examination much earlier. It is a matter of detail and the Agra University might consider as to whether it will not be possible to have an examination, if it is going to have it, much earlier than October, whether it could not have it in August. In that case with the expediting of the publication of results something might be done with regard to the admission of these passed candidates to the next higher class. The other point may be about their attendance, the exemption from attendance before they are allowed to reappear. I do not know what the present regulations and statutes are. These are questions of detail and members of the Senate will keep them in mind before they committed themselves to any decision in the matter.

Mr. W. Adiseshaa: In the Madras University there is a supplementary examination held in the month of September every year to enable students who have failed in some part of the Intermediate or the B. A. examination to reappear. One of the advantages of this practice is that those who wish to find employment might be able to qualify themselves by October for jobs which they wish to secure during the course of the year. In the case of students of this University, those who fail in one subject are obliged to wait till next March before they can reappear for the B.A. examination. So while we bear in mind the difficulties which Professor Siddhanta has pointed out, we must also remember that this practice might help students to secure the necessary qualifications for posts which fall vacant in the middle of the year.

Mr. P. D. Gupta: I formally move that Mr. Sharda Prasad's resolution be referred to the Executive Council for consideration and report at the next meeting of the Senate. It is a very ticklish question and there are very weighty arguments on both sides. I do not think the Senate should be in a hurry to take a decision one way or the other.

Mr. H. Krall: We should not take a hasty decision in this matter. It has been coming up every year or every second year since the University started.

The proposal was then carried.

27. Babu Chhail Behari Capoor: I beg to move the resolution standing in my name which runs as follows:—

Resolved that the Senate accepts the principle that the election of representatives of the Registered Graduates should, as from 1941, be by territorial constituencies. Accordingly, and in order to give practical effect to this principle, the Senate appoints a committee of five members (to be named at the meeting) to propose the necessary amendments in the existing statutory provisions applicable to the matter and submit its report by the middle of July next to the Executive Council which will lay the proposals before the annual meeting of the Senate in 1941 together with its own views thereon.

Some legal provisions have to be referred to here and I shall at once place them before the Senate. First, there is Section 14 of the Act, rather its Sub-section (1), and more particularly clause 16 of that sub-section. Section 14 deals with the constitution of the Senate. There are various classes of members dealt with under that section. First come ex-officio members. They are followed by "other members". This class includes, among others, "graduates elected by the Registered Graduates from among their own body". Then follows sub-section (2) which lays down that the number of members to be elected or nominated under heads 12, 13, 16 and 17 and the periods for which they shall hold office shall be prescribed by the Statutes. The point that I want to make clear is that although the acceptance of my resolution will necessitate certain amendments in the statutes and in the regulations, it would not be necessary for the Senate to approach the Legislature with a request to amend the Act. The Act gives to the Senate the necessary authority to amend that Statute under which the number of the registered graduates' representatives is fixed. As you are aware, the present number is 15, but it is open to the Senate to raise it to any higher figure. It can have 30; it can have even more if it so likes, or it may have a figure intermediate between 15 and 30. Statute 2 lays down the number of members of the Senate to be elected by registered graduates under Section 14 (1). At the present moment these 15 graduates are elected by more than 1,000 registered graduates. According to certain statistics which I have collected, the number of registered graduates in 1927 was 165; in 1930 it had gone up to 429. By the time the election was held in 1933 the number had gone up to 1,063. In 1936, it had reached 1,429 while at the last election which was held in 1939 the number was no less than 1,650. So you will see that the number has increased ten times. We started with 165 in 1927 and by 1939 the number has gone up to 1,650. The chances are that at the time of the next election which must be held in 1942, the number of registered graduates will be even larger. The question now for you to consider is whether something should not be done to make this election an easier affair. At the present moment a candidate who seeks election to the Senate from this constituency, I mean the registered graduates' constituency, has to approach the registered graduates from Indore right up to Gorakhpur, a distance of several hundred miles, and you must remember that the number of voters he has to handle is more than 1,000. I am quite clear in my mind that time has come for us to do something positive. What is that something which can be done?

I hold that the right thing to do under the circumstances is to have territorial constituencies; that is to say, you must divide the entire area over which the University is at present exercising jurisdiction into a certain number of constituencies. It may be 17 corresponding to the number of the affiliated colleges, or it may be some other number. I am not interested at the present moment in advocating any particular number. It will be the business of the committee, which I have proposed, to go into this and other cognate questions. At the present moment I merely urge the acceptance of the principle that the election should be by territorial constituencies. The necessary details will be worked out in the first instance by the proposed committee. They will then be considered by the Executive Council and finally they will come up before the Senate. There is one other point which I might as well mention here. I pointed out that the number of registered graduates in 1939 was, according to the list supplied to us, 1,650. They hailed from no less than 73 different places. Ever since this University came into being, there have been five regular elections, which means that as many as 75 representatives of registered graduates have so far been elected. Now, these 75 registered graduates were shown from such a small number of places as 13. In other words, out of the 73 places, to which the registered graduates belong as many as 60 have not had any opportunity of electing any local person. If you give effect to the principle I am advocating, the number of such places will be bound to increase. Let me point out that out of these 75 registered graduates as many as 18 were elected from one place alone, 15 from another, 13 from a third, 7 from another, 5 from another, 4 from another, 3 from another, 3 again from another, 2 each from two places and 1 each from three places.

These are then the facts for your consideration. If you want that there should be a wider opportunity to the registered graduates for getting into the Senate, then something like this should be attempted. Though I have been a registered graduate from the very beginning, I have never had my seat here as a registered graduate. And let me add that I do not contemplate seeking election in future either from that constituency. So, so far as I am personally concerned I remain unaffected. It is in the general interest of the registered graduates that I have put forward this proposal.

Rai Saheb Madan Mohan Seth seconded the proposal.

Dr. Narayan Prasad Asthana: Will the mover please let me know whether the population of registered graduates is uniform throughout the whole of U. P. and Ajmer and Central India?

Mr. H. B. Richardson: Has the resolution been seconded?

A member: Yes, it has been.

Babu Chhail Behari Capoor: I have gone into certain statistics and I have placed the result of my examination of these statistics before the Senate. As regards the particular point raised, I am sure, Dr. Asthana will be requested by the Senate to serve on the proposed committee. He can then himself go into this matter.

Mr. P. D. Gupta: I propose that Babu Chhail Behari Capoor's resolution be referred to the Executive Council for opinion and submission to the next meeting of the Senate. I have listened with very great interest to the remarks of Babu Chhail Behari Capoor. There is some substance in his contention that it is very difficult for a candidate, to take an example, in Gorakhpur, to canvass a voter in Indore.

Dr. Ishwari Prasad: He need not canvass, he can write to him.

Mr. P. D. Gupta: Writing, I understood, is a form of canvassing. In Dr. Ishwari Prasad's vocabulary it may not be. Dr. Ishwari Prasad will have his say later on and therefore he may allow me to proceed without interruption. Dr. Asthana has drawn attention to a very fundamental point in the election of registered graduates. What is important is not so much territories as the number of registered graduates who hail from a particular place. To take an example, you may give a certain percentage of representation to Rajputana, I am taking a hypothetical case. It may be that from Rajputana in the case of a particular election there may not be more than five registered graduates. It would be very unfair if these five registered graduates are given a certain percentage of representation. The point is that the distribution of the strength of registered graduates is not territorial and if I may be permitted to make a remark, when Mr. Chhail Behari read out the representation from particular places, he forgot that either by accident or by design these areas which secured representation happened to have the largest number of registered voters. Supposing a particular area, say Cawnpore, has 200 registered graduates and the whole of Rajputana has not more than five, I submit that it will be only fair and just to give more representation to the one town of Cawnpore than to the whole of Rajputana province. What I mean to suggest is that the question is not as simple as Babu Chhail Behari Capoor would have us believe. I therefore am opposed to the acceptance of a principle which the Senate has not had the opportunity to consider. It may be a sound principle or it may not be a sound principle. Personally I think that there would be a lot of practical difficulties in its working and I am not prepared to accept the proposition that the Senate in this meeting should accept the principle. On the other hand, I am not prepared to vote against Babu Chhail Behari Capoor's resolution. He has spent a lot of energy and time and labour in collecting statistics and it would be very ungraceful on our part not to show due consideration to all the labour and industry he has put in in spite of his bad health. I therefore propose that the whole question be referred to the Executive Council for consideration and report at the next meeting of the Senate and I do hope that when the Executive Council does consider the motion, it will have the benefit of a well-considered memorandum on the subject from our friend, Mr. Capoor.

Dr. Ishwari Prasad: I am conscious of my utter inability to cope with Mr. P. D. Gupta where an election matter is concerned. I yield place to him, but there is one important observation which I should like to place before the Senate. Mr. Gupta has suggested that the matter should be referred to the Executive Council for its opinion. Mr. Chhail Behari Capoor is a veteran parliamentarian and he is very much obsessed by political ideas. He wants to introduce into this University the practice of Parliaments and Legislative Councils. The University is a corporate body and it has to be treated as one unit and if Mr. Capoor's proposal is accepted, we shall substitute for loyalty to the University in our graduates a kind of parochial, local loyalty which may be confined in the case of many graduates to a small area like the Rohilkhand division to which my learned friend belongs. The division into territorial constituencies, I think, in a University like this is impracticable. I do not know how it will work in practice. If you will look into the list of graduates you will find that they hail from all parts of India. Some are in Karachi, others in Gauhati in Assam. Thus the registered graduates of this University are scattered all over India and how this grouping of constituencies will take place, I do not understand.

There is another argument. There is no University which has got this practice. No University on the continent of Europe or in India has got territorial constituencies and we shall be aggravating an evil that is already great by accepting this proposal. I therefore request the Senate not to accept the proposal. It should not be referred to the Executive Council for one very important reason. I think for the Senate it will not be a wise policy to shelve these matters or to refer them again and again to the Executive Council. This puts the Executive Council in the wrong. You send a motion to the Executive Council without your own approval or disapproval and that creates dissatisfaction against the decisions of the Executive Council. I therefore suggest that the Senate should not accept the principle that underlies Mr. Capoor's proposal and we should continue the practice which prevails now, a practice that has been found serviceable by all Universities functioning in the United Provinces and throughout the whole country. The number of graduates has increased. At the last election we multiplied from 300 to 4,000 and it is not for me to say why the number increased. The number is increasing on account of the larger number of students joining our universities and then men like my esteemed friend, Mr. Gupta, have done much to arouse the interest of registered graduates. They have begun to take a very keen interest in the affairs of the University. I am sure Mr. Capoor will not be alarmed at the growth of this healthy sign amongst us. The more interest the students take, the better for all concerned. I would request the Senate not to accept the principle that underlies Mr. Capoor's proposal.

Mr. P. D. Gupta proposed and Dr. L. P. Mathur seconded that the question be put.

Mr. Jwala Prasad Singhal: Can he make that motion when a man is on his legs? In the first place I would oppose Mr. Gupta's amendment that this should be referred to the Executive Council for the simple reason that this resolution says :

Resolved that the Senate accepts the principle that the election of representatives of the Registered Graduates should, as from 1942, be by territorial constituencies. Accordingly and in order to give practical effect to this principle, the Senate appoints a Committee of five members (to be named at the meeting) to propose the necessary amendments in the existing statutory provisions applicable to the matter and submit its report by the middle of July next to the Executive Council which will lay the proposals before the annual meeting of the Senate in 1941 together with its own views thereon.

If we are referring it to the Executive Council that might mean that we accept the principle and then we ask for the report from the Executive Council accepting this principle. From that point of view, it should not be referred to the Executive Council. So far as the Senate is concerned, I beg to submit that here is Section 14 which has been quoted by Mr. Capoor, sub-section (2) prescribing that the number and the period for which they usually hold office shall be appointed by statutes. The statute-making power under Section 26 does not give us any power to change a constitution settled by a section of the Act like Section 14, Sub-section (1), clause XVI. We can only fix the number and period but cannot vary the form of a constituency. Therefore the first point that we have got to consider is whether it is possible to take a resolution of this type or make a change. Whether it is not a change of the Act itself. Whether it is necessary to make a change in the Act or whether the Statutes will be enough for that purpose, I am very doubtful whether it will be in our power to make this kind of change. Our Statutes cannot go against the Act itself and therefore it will be ultra vires on our part to make a change of that type. Mr. Capoor has suggested that the constituencies can be according to the colleges. (Mr. Capoor: I don't insist on that.) The other point is about territorial constituencies for the whole country. There are 11 provinces and a number of big states. Even if we allot one person to each of them, it will be impracticable. If we allot according to the colleges, what would happen to a registered graduate like myself? I happen to belong to the M. A. O. College which was then affiliated to the Allahabad University. In what constituency shall I be placed. Consequently this proposal is absolutely impracticable and also ultra vires our powers. Therefore, I recommend that this proposal should be altogether thrown out.

The motion to close discussion was put and accepted.

Babu Chhail Behari Capoor: Mr. P. D. Gupta wants my resolution to be sent to the Executive Council. May I point out that there is no particular advantage in the Senate sending this resolution to the Executive Council? For, as members of the Senate it is already the privilege of every one of us to make any suggestion that we like to the Executive Council. If I choose I can address a letter to the Executive Council and put forward my views before that body and the Executive Council will be bound to consider them. Whether therefore the matter is referred to the Executive Council directly from here or I, as a member of the Senate, approach the Executive Council directly with my suggestions, the position remains the same. What I want is that all the possible difficulties should be examined not by the Executive Council in the first instance,—but by a committee which should be appointed by the Senate today. It will be for that committee to go into the various difficulties that are weighing on the minds of certain members. As far as the legality of this suggestion is concerned, I don't think there is any difficulty whatever. The Senate is fully competent to amend all statutes (Mr. Singhal: But not the Act itself), including the First Statutes annexed to the Act. (Mr. Singhal: But this will be the amendment of the Act.) No Sir. Moreover, if any such difficulty is really felt by the committee which is to be appointed in pursuance of this resolution, that committee will no doubt point this out and the Vice-Chancellor can refer the matter to the Advocate General or to some other eminent lawyer. (Mr. Singhal: How can we accept the principle in the meantime?) In the meantime, the principle can be tentatively accepted. I have pointed out the relevant provisions and if it is asserted by any member that this is not permissible under the Act, let him point out the particular provision on which he relies. (Mr. Singhal: Therefore, take out the words 'the principle....') Dr. Ishwari Prasad and several members are opposed to the resolution because they feel that it will not be easy to settle the constituencies. As a matter of fact, I don't anticipate any difficulty in that connection either. In the course of my opening speech I suggested that the Senate might have as many as 17 constituencies. I don't urge that the number should be exactly 17. It may be any number. The Senate can allot graduates within its own jurisdiction to a certain number of constituencies, having one or more general constituencies for those registered graduates who happen to live outside the University's jurisdiction. So, my submission is that if there are any practical difficulties it will be first for the committee, and later on for the Executive Council, to consider them, and to see whether they can not be solved. If the Executive Council ultimately comes to the conclusion that the difficulties are insuperable, then it need not do anything. But if it finds that the difficulties can be surmounted, it can make necessary amendments in the regulations and proposed necessary amendments in the relevant statutes.

The amendment was lost and the original proposal was also rejected.

28. Mr. R. S. Vidyarthi: I beg to move:

That the Senate recommends to the Executive Council to prescribe precise regulations clearly specifying a detailed procedure for the election of representatives of the teachers of the affiliated colleges to the various bodies of the University.

While moving this resolution I have not to say much because it is self-explanatory. There have been certain instances in which in the colleges while the election of representatives of teachers was held, an arbitrary procedure was followed by a number of colleges. In this case there has been certain difficulty last year about the Meerut College and a representation was made by one of the candidates to the Vice-Chancellor and thereafter there was a lot of unpleasantness and still the matter was not decided to the satisfaction of all. Hence I have moved this resolution that there must be specific rules as to the procedure of election of representatives of the teachers of the affiliated colleges of this University. I mean how a candidate should be nominated, how the voting should take place, who should be the candidate and what should be the rights of the candidate. For instance, last year there was a candidate who was not allowed to vote and he was after all a candidate and he fought the election. Afterwards he withdrew only in protest because the procedure adopted in the election was very irregular. The practice had been to have the votes recorded by ballot, but in that election the votes were recorded by getting the ballot papers signed by every voter. In that way the principal could influence one way or the other all the voters. It is unfortunate that the principal of a college should be interested in one or another candidate and he could not behave in an impartial way. Hence the result of the election could not be fair. So I think that the question be referred to the Executive Council for framing specific rules which may be very clear and very definite on these points and then be submitted to the Senate.

Dr. Ishwari Prasad: I have pleasure in seconding Mr. Vidyarthi. Some difficulty has arisen over elections in our colleges and matters have been decided by the rulings of the Vice-Chancellor. In certain cases the impression has been that the principals have not acted very fairly and no harm will be done if this proposal is sent to the Executive Council and the regulations or rules that are in existence, if they are found defective, may be improved upon.

Vice-Chancellor: If you send it in the present form, I may inform the House that it will be committed to the principle underlying the motion, namely, that the Executive Council should prescribe rules.

Dr. Ishwari Prasad: We are not committed to any principle. The ballot ought not to be signed. If a ballot is signed it loses its secrecy and the whole election is void.

Vice-Chancellor: Why not send it to the Executive Council without the Senate accepting the principle? It would be much better to word it thus: The Senate recommends to the Executive Council to consider the desirability of prescribing regulations, etc.

Dr. Ishwari Prasad: I have no objection.

Mr. N. Padmanabhan: Why not elections to the Faculties also? Instead of "the Senate" we might say "the various bodies of the University".....

The motion in the amended form was agreed to.

Mr. R. S. Vidyarthi: Where there will be an election of the members of.....

Vice-Chancellor: I may inform Mr. Vidyarthi that if a principal is really like that, you cannot stop him. I hope no principal would do like this. No regulation of the University can stop him behaving like this.

Mr. R. S. Vidyarthi: We have passed certain resolutions and I wish to declare that I am not in agreement with those two resolutions.

Vice-Chancellor: I am afraid that is not in order. I dissolve the meeting now.

P. BASU,

Vice-Chancellor.

Registrar.

APPENDIX F-1.

(Ref. Senate Res. No. 17 of Nov. 21, 1940.)

Proceedings of the second meeting of the Committee appointed by the Senate on November 17, 1939, to look into the finances of the University, held at the Senate House, Agra, on Thursday, March 13, 1940, at 7 p.m

Present :

1. The Vice-Chancellor.
2. Mr. Algu Rai Shastri.
3. Mr. K. P. Bhatnagar.
4. Mr. C. Mahajan.

The Committee further discussed the steps that might be adopted by the University with a view to economising the expenditure of the University and increasing its income and made the following suggestions :—

A. For Reducing the Expenditure—

(i) The Committee noted that under orders of the Vice-Chancellor, candidates have been asked to write on both sides of the answer-book. The Committee further understand that this practice exists at present in the Punjab and the Calcutta Universities. The Committee is, therefore, of opinion that this experiment might be tried for a year, as ordered by the Vice-Chancellor, as a measure of war-time economy, and if as a result of the experiment, there are no serious objections to it, the practice may be followed permanently in the Agra University. In view of the fact that the prices of paper have gone up considerably owing to the war, the University would be able to save about Rs. 1,000, or so per year by adopting this practice. If necessary the quality of paper may however be improved a bit. Objections from the Principals of Colleges, if any, to the adoption of this practice may be placed before the Senate when the report of this Committee is being considered.

(ii) The Committee is of opinion that having due regard to the large number of subjects included at present in the Faculties of Arts and Science there is still a possibility of reducing expenditure by reducing the number of co-opted members on the Faculties of Arts, Science and Law by at least one-third of the present number of the co-opted members on these bodies. Thus the number of co-opted members could be easily brought down to 10 on the Faculty of Arts and 6 or 7 on each of the Faculties of Science and Law.

(iii) The expenses of inspection are paid at present by the College concerned when it is inspected for affiliation to the University, but the University pays for such inspection when a college applies for recognition in new subjects. The Committee recommended that in future colleges might be required to meet from their own funds the expenses on inspection, when they apply for recognition in new subjects as well, and the University need pay such expenses only for the periodical inspection of a college.

(iv) The speeches are reported verbatim at the meetings of the Senate. The Committee recommend that the practice be discontinued and only the resolutions passed by the Senate may be recorded as is done at present in the case of other University bodies.

The suggestions under (i), (ii), (iii) and (iv) above, if adopted, are likely to effect an annual saving of Rs. 2,000 to Rs. 2,500 to the University.

(v) The Committee note that Government grant to the University is calculated at present on the basis of expenditure, only on items approved by the Government. Consequently even if the University were to reduce expenditure on these approved items with a view to utilising the savings thus effected on further expansion of the University, e.g., the scholarships and the library, Government may reduce still further to the same extent their grant to the University and thereby make such expansion impossible. Therefore the Committee is of opinion that until Government decide to make a block grant to the University for a sufficiently long period and leave the University free to adjust its income and expenditure and utilise its savings under one head for expenditure under such other head as it may deem proper, no useful purpose would be served by effecting economies under so-called approved heads of expenditure like travelling allowances and remuneration to examiners.

B. For increasing the income.—

(i) There is a possibility of increasing the income of the University if the fee for registration for life is reduced for the Graduates of the University from Rs. 25 to Rs. 10, as is the case in the Lucknow University.

(ii) The Committee is informed that the Calcutta University is making a substantial income from the publication of books. This is possible in Calcutta because the University there conducts also the High School and the Intermediate examinations, besides the Degree and Post-graduate examinations and has got a very large number of students. In Agra the University has no press of its own and the number of students is comparatively small, but still the University might explore the possibility of publishing on royalty basis, its own selections for the B.A. Examination in languages like English and Hindi where the University has an appreciable number of students at present.

(iii) The Committee considered the question of approaching the Indian States for financial assistance to the University both recurring and non-recurring. The Committee, however, note that the present Agra University Act and also the executive orders of the U. P. Government make a most unfortunate and undesirable distinction between the two units of the University area, viz., U. P. and non-U. P., in so far as neither the Principals nor the Managements of the non-U. P. colleges have been given any direct representation on the most important executive body of the University, viz., the Executive Council, and the United Provinces Government have by their executive order emphasised this distinction still further by disallowing from their funds even the merit scholarships to the students of that area, although the University awards such scholarships on a purely competitive basis. Under these circumstances the Committee feel that until the Agra University Act is properly amended and equal representation granted to all the colleges of the University whether such colleges are situated in the United Provinces or in Central India, Rajputana and Ajmer-Merwara, and until the executive orders of the Government making a distinction even in the matter of merit scholarships are withdrawn by the U. P. Government, the University could not possibly approach the Indian States for financial assistance, with any hope of success whatsoever. The Committee therefore strongly recommend to the Senate that steps might be taken in the above-mentioned directions to have the Agra University Act amended as early as possible.

In the end the Committee note that the finances of the University are certainly not very strong but the only way of putting them on a permanently sound basis would be to get a block grant fixed by the Government for a sufficiently long period and to have the Agra University Act properly amended. The University should then be left entirely free to take care of its finances and the Committee feels sure that it would be able to do so.

It being unnecessary the Committee did not take any decision on the remaining points noted for discussion in its first report dated February 23, 1940.

2. Capt. H. M. Shivapuri, Lucknow.

95. Read letter No. 587-605, dated 25th September, 1940, from the Secretary, Inter-University Board, India, inviting the views of the University on the following question raised at a meeting of the Central Advisory Board of Education:—

The question whether it is in the interest to withhold the emoluments of scholarships and stipends granted out of Government funds from those candidates whose parents are able to provide education without the assistance of a scholarship, has been raised by the Chief Commissioner, Beluchistan. As the underlying principle is one of general application the matter was brought before the Board for consideration.

The Board recognised that one of the objects of granting scholarships from public funds is to enable pupils of ability whose parents are poor, to prosecute their studies further than they would be able to do if dependent on their own resources. As the funds available for education are by no means abundant, there is much force in the view that payment of scholarships should be withheld from children of well-to-do parents and the money thus released utilised for the award of scholarships to poorer students. At the same time, as scholarships confer upon the winner a distinction which may be valuable asset in their future careers it would not be fair to deprive children of well-to-do parents of the opportunity of securing such distinction. This problem can be solved by arranging that winners of merit scholarships, whose parents are able to provide education without the financial help of a scholarship, should be treated as honorary scholars. In the event of the financial circumstances of an honorary scholar deteriorating sufficiently, he would become entitled to the emoluments of the scholarship. Before, however, arriving at a final conclusion in the matter, the Board asked the Educational Commissioner to prepare a memorandum on the subject after obtaining the views of Provincial Governments and Universities and to place it before the Board at its next meeting.

Resolved that in the opinion of this Council scholarships awarded on pure merit in public examinations should be awarded to those winning such scholarships irrespective of the financial circumstances of their parents and guardians.

Resolved that the action of the Vice-Chancellor be confirmed.

Resolved further that teaching relating to Medicine and Teachers' Training shall be conducted in separate institutions which shall seek separate affiliation.

Resolved that the action of the Vice-Chancellor be confirmed.

101. With reference to Executive Council Resolution No. 16 of August 24, 1940, regarding certain suggestions of one of the tabulators for the examinations of 1940, the Council considered the following proposals of the office made with a view to giving effect to the suggestions of the tabulator as far as possible :—

- E. In the result tabulation chart for the B.A. Examination change the heading of column 6 from “optional subjects, besides General English” to “optional subjects.”
- F. The examiners in practicals be asked to write the names of the candidates in alphabetical order in the mark sheets.

Resolved that the proposal under item A relating to an amendment in Statute 15 of Chapter XXIX-A be considered at the next meeting of the Council, and the remaining proposals under items B to F be accepted and given effect to from the examinations of 1941.

102. The following proposal standing in the name of Dr. S. K. Mukerji was withdrawn by the mover:—

That no teacher of a degree college or of degree classes having no previous experience of teaching post-graduate classes be appointed examiner of post-graduate classes or be appointed Moderator of post-graduate question papers.

103. Read application, dated November 4, 1940, from Mr. K. K. Chaterji, Press clerk in the University office, for a temporary withdrawal of Rs. 720 out of his provident Fund Account under Statute 8 of Chapter XXXIV of the University Calendar for 1939-40 (page 252), for (a) making the payment of the balance still due for the cost of a piece of land purchased by him; and (b) discharging the debt he had to incur due to the prolonged illness of his wife and children,

Resolved that the application be granted.

104. The Registrar reported the receipt of letter No. A/1832/XV, dated November 15, 1940, from the Secretary to His Excellency the Chancellor, conveying the assent of His Excellency the Chancellor to the amendments to Statute 3 of Chapter XXXI of the University Calendar, relating to the addition of Economics as an optional subject for the B.Sc. degree, and asking the University to re-examine the experiment after a period of three years.

Resolved that it be recorded.

105. With reference to letter, dated November 9, 1940, from the Principal, St. John's College, Agra, the Council considered the question whether the research scholarship awarded to Mr. Kishen Prasad Mathur of St. John's College, Agra, be awarded from the date from which it was tenable, i.e., August 1, 1940, or from the date from which he actually commenced his work, i.e., November 4, 1940.

The Registrar reported that the scholarship in question was formerly granted to another candidate at D. A.-V. College, Cawnpore, on certain conditions and in case he did not fulfil those conditions, it was to be offered to Mr. Kishen Prasad Mathur. The Cawnpore candidate did not avail of the scholarship, but this information was received in the University office as late as October 18, 1940. The scholarship was then offered to Mr. Mathur and as the Diwali and Id holidays intervened, he actually commenced his work from November 4, 1940.

Resolved that the scholarship be allowed to Mr. Kishen Prasad Mathur from November 1, 1940 to June 30, 1941.

106. Resolved that in the case of candidates who had been permitted to supplicate for the D.Litt. and D.Sc. degrees of the University under the old Statutes, October 31, 1942, be fixed as the last date for submitting their theses.

APPENDIX A.

(Ref. Executive Council Res. No. 77 of November 22, 1940.)

Report of the Committee appointed by the Executive Council under its Resolution No. 65 of September 28, 1940, to find out ways and means of helping the University Robe-makers in the matter of hiring out of gowns to graduates by some other persons.

The matter was discussed by correspondence and it was decided that for the Convocation of 1940 a strict check should be exercised and those candidates who do not come in the proper academic habit should not be allowed to attend the Convocation. This checking should be enforced by the stewards who are in charge of the pandal.

This is by way of experiment. We hope the evil will disappear and if it does not, other measures will have to be devised. The Committee, however, feel that the University cannot compel the candidates to take the academic habit from any single firm.

ISHWARI PRASAD,
L. P. MATHUR,
SHYAM SUNDAR SHARMA.

November 20, 1940.

P. BASU,
Vice-Chancellor.

Observations made by the Vice-Chancellor at the Convocation, in connection with the working of the University during 1939-40 (July 1, 1939 to June 30, 1940).

Members of Convocation:—

I rise to make a few observations on the working of the University during the past year (July 1, 1939 to June 30, 1940). The year under review is the thirteenth year in the life of the University. The number of colleges affiliated to the University is now 19. Four other colleges are soon expected to be added to the list.

2,116 students were enrolled during the year as members of the University. The total number of students in the Degree and the Post-Graduate classes in affiliated colleges of the University on 1st September 1939, was 4,327. It was distributed as follows:—

Faculty of Arts	2,620
Faculty of Science	579
Faculty of Law	694
Faculty of Commerce	350
Faculty of Agriculture	84

3,728 candidates appeared at the various examinations held in April 1940, of whom 3,103 were regular candidates, 543 teachers, 8 inspectors, and 74 women candidates.

The various University bodies have duly transacted their normal business.

All the affiliated colleges report steady progress and many of them have made special efforts to expand and improve their tutorial system so as to ensure closer personal contact between teachers and students.

The Annual University Sports were held at Agra College on 17th and 18th November 1939. Nine colleges participated. The University Training Corps held their annual camp at Lucknow from 1st to 15th November, 1939.

The University is soon going to have a Medical Faculty and a Medical College at Agra. The Medical School at Agra was an old one and for some years there appeared to have grown a general desire among the people of Agra and its neighbourhood that the standard of training should be raised to that of a Degree college. In response to that general desire, a technical committee of experts went through all details and recommended a comprehensive scheme for the Degree College. When the matter came up before the University a strong committee with several eminent medical men of India was set up to consider the question of recognition of the Medical School at Agra. There has not been any substantial difference in the opinions of the experts of the two committees. Although unusual this is highly satisfactory. The University has now framed the necessary Statutes which have been recommended by the Executive Council and adopted by the Senate. As soon as the Statutes are approved by the Chancellor the College will be formally recognised and immediate arrangements made for its recognition by the University and for the constitution of the Faculty of Medicine.

Another important development has been the passing of the Statutes recognising the Degree of Bachelor of Training for graduates who intend to work as teachers. The need for such training is not so great in the United Provinces in which there are several institutions at Allahabad, Benares and Aligarh. But it is not easy for one coming from outside the United Provinces to be admitted to these institutions. This seriously handicaps the schools in Rajputana and Central India where teachers are mostly untrained mainly because of lack of adequate facilities for training. Now that the necessary Statutes have been passed it is expected that some institution within this area will be started to take advantage of the facilities offered and be recognised by the University.

Government have decided to expand the University Training Corps and will recruit a few commissioned officers directly from the Corps. This is highly satisfactory. But the University has a long-standing grievance in this matter. The share allotted to the University is much smaller than what its numbers in the colleges in the United Provinces would justify. It is to be hoped that if any direct recruitment is made, this University will have its due share of such recruitment.

For years the University has been asking Government to have the Training Corps extended to Cawnpore, Bareilly, and Gorakhpore. But a serious handicap threatens this desirable expansion. It is expected by Government that the expansion of the U. T. C. will not cost them more in providing instructional staff and equipment. Thus Government expect the University to expand the U. T. C. without any increase in the staff. This will in effect mean that there can be expansion only where the instructional staff already exist.

In the case of a unitary university the question is simple. But in the case of an affiliating university like Agra University it will be impossible for it to open any new centre. Thus the expansion can take place only at Agra and Meerut. But in places like Cawnpore, Bareilly, and Gorakhpore, where there is no U. T. C. now and therefore no instructional staff, it will be impossible to open fresh platoons under the new scheme. Yet in any scheme of expansion the University is bound to think of these fresh centres, especially Cawnpore where there are four Degree Colleges and Bareilly where the number in the College is large.

The University has made representations to Government pointing out this difficulty and hopes that a relaxation in the condition regarding instructional staff will be made in the case of this University in order to enable it to open fresh centres under the new scheme of expanding the University Training Corps.

This Convocation will be the last to be held during the term of office of the present Vice-Chancellor and he takes this opportunity to thank the members of the various University bodies as also the staff of the University Office for the uniform courtesy shown to him and their ready co-operation. Without such co-operation it would have been impossible for him to do what little he has been able to do for the good of the University.

THIRTEENTH ANNUAL CONVOCATION

(November 23, 1940)

ADDRESS*

BY

DR SYAMAPRASAD MOOKERJEE, M.A., D.LITT., B.L., M.L.A., BAR-AT-LAW.

(Ex-Vice-Chancellor, University of Calcutta)

VICE-CHANCELLOR, MEMBERS OF CONVOCATION, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,

I DEEM it a great honour to be invited to deliver the Convocation Address of your University. It is true your University ranks as one of the younger seats of learning in this country. Yet one cannot overlook the peculiar circumstances leading to your foundation which brought within your jurisdiction many institutions that have for a long number of years steadily contributed their share to the cause of educational progress. If your University has known only thirteen summers, its habitation in this historic city of Agra whose ancient and mediaeval associations are indeed unforgettable, gives you a dignity and a prominence which have a value all their own. The sacred river which glides past the battlements of your city carries our memory back to the heroic age of India, to the days of the Mahabharata and even to that of the Rig-Veda itself. The ancient castle of the city figured in the qasidas of the Ghaznavid Period. The noble town which grew round it flourished under the fostering care of the greatest of the Great Moguls who founded the famous fort of cut red stone, the like of which those who had travelled over the world in the days of his son, could not point out. But it was left to his famous grandson to adorn the city with its brightest of ornaments—one of the seven wonders of the world—a crowning tribute in marble to India's womanhood. The land round the Taj was also the birthplace of Faizi and

*The Vice-Chancellor introduced Dr. Syama Prasad Mookerjee in a suitable speech eulogising his educational work and called upon him to deliver the Convocation Address.

Abul Fazl. For years it was the residence of Tansen and the resting place of many an eminent personage of the Mogul Period. A University founded in a city with such noble associations has a responsibility to the Motherland which needs no emphasis.

The last twenty years have witnessed the creation of several unitary teaching and residential Universities in different parts of India and admirable work is being done in many of them to advance the cause of higher education and research. The main feature of your University must, however, continue to be of the affiliating type, and while the colleges should be encouraged to carry on undergraduate teaching work in the various faculties, I would earnestly plead that you should organise in full co-operation with one another important schemes of original research consistent with the requirements of your province. They should embrace each of the great fields of human thought and achievement. It should be possible to develop the scheme in such a manner as to avoid duplication of work and permit a fair distribution of subjects in accordance with the conditions and circumstances of your institutions. I am well aware that such a scheme will need for its materialisation very large resources in the way of apparatus, libraries, laboratories and museums, which are all indispensable to modern higher education as elaborate costly machines are to modern industry. As higher education in every part of the civilised world is financed generously, if not lavishly, by the State, you must appeal to Government for increased grants to enable you to discharge your main function. It is my firm conviction that, with the resources of the affiliated colleges properly organised and stimulated, your University can secure the assistance of the instructing staff and scholars who would be willing to devote themselves whole-heartedly to the sacred cause of advancement of the bounds of knowledge.

Universities in British India owed their foundation mainly to a desire on the part of the authorities to secure the loyal services of administrators and service-holders who could keep going the complex machinery of a bureaucratic Government in an orderly and efficient manner. There was also the idea of spreading in a conquered territory, through the agency of the Universities, a system of Western education which in those days of benevolent despotism was regarded by the rulers as a path of duty and the sure means of elevating India to what they thought to be a higher standard of life. Universities were not established as seats of learning nor was education attempted to be organised for the highest development of Indian culture and civilization. Nearly half a century after the establishment of the first University in India, the ideal of a teaching University where scholars might meet for the dissemination and advancement of knowledge was first formulated. But the general system of education was not even then closely linked up with those essential problems which called for early fulfilment, so that India might reach her destiny through education and regain her supremacy in the domain of culture and enlightenment as also in the social, economic and political spheres of activity.

While I shall be the last person to minimise the value and importance of the work which Indian Universities have done to advance educational progress in this country, to spread wholesome ideas among the people, to widen the outlook of millions of men, to instil in their minds fundamental ideas of progress and liberty, and to rouse the national consciousness of the citizens, I shall yet say that the time has come when a re-orientation of University education is urgently called for in order to suit the changing conditions of our country. Our Universities should no longer continue to be regarded principally as training grounds for the professions and services. The professions are overcrowded and recruitment to public services is now based on a variety of considerations where merit does not always play the most prominent part.

The colleges should provide at the base what has been known for generations as a sound liberal education that is catholic, expansive, free from narrowness and bigotry in ideas or doctrines, appropriate for a broad and enlightened mind. That education should be imparted through the medium of our own languages. The acceptance of this principle may raise initial difficulties but such difficulties have been overcome in free countries and India must also face and surmount them. In Eire, the Irish language, once said to be unsuited to the needs of modern civilisation, has been introduced with success. This is of fundamental value in the true building up of national life. It is more than a mere means of communicating ideas ;

it is the expression of the national spirit.* The other day a vigorous attack was launched on the Nazi policy of attempting to destroy the language and literature of some of the countries over which Hitler holds his sway today. The critic rightly expressed his abhorrence of what constitutes a death-blow to the culture of those countries. In India also, for more than a century, education imparted through the medium of a foreign language has unduly dominated its academic life and it has now produced a class of men who are unconsciously so de-nationalised that any far-reaching proposal for the recognition of the Indian languages as the vehicle of teaching and examination up to the highest University stage is 'either ridiculed as impossible or branded as reactionary. But I plead earnestly for the acceptance of this fundamental principle not on account of any blind adherence to things that I claim as my own but out of a firm conviction that the fullest development of the mind of a learner is possible only by this natural approach and also that by this process alone can there be a great revival of the glory and richness of the Indian languages.

A problem that has presented difficulties in India but which to my mind is certainly avoidable relates to the recognition of different Indian languages by the Universities. In my University, elaborate provisions have been in existence for more than thirty years for the recognition of all the important Indian languages. At the post-Matriculation stage, a candidate coming from outside Bengal is encouraged to offer his own mother-tongue at his examination. Important Indian languages other than Bengali have been included for the M.A. Examination also. At the Matriculation stage, non-Bengalees are not compelled to accept Bengali as the medium of their examination. Hindi, Urdu and Assamese are recognised as media along with Bengali and have been given the same importance as the language of the province itself. Others are allowed the option to offer English as their medium. I do believe that the question of the study of important Indian languages should not present any difficulty whatsoever in any Indian University, only if we remember the cardinal point that, in whichever corner of the vast country we might reside, we are bound to one another by ties of brotherhood and comradeship, and in generally helping one another in the field of education, we are but strengthening the foundation of that great Indian nationhood, the full attainment of which has been the dream of generations of Indians irrespective of caste, creed or community.

While I plead for the due recognition of our own languages, I recognise that English should remain a compulsory second-language and that it should be taught to all, mainly for the purpose of a correct expression of ideas and assimilation of knowledge to be gathered from books written in that great language. Provision should also be made for the study of other important languages, both Eastern and Western.

A thorough examinaion of the syllabuses and the courses of study, not from the standpoint of any one individual subject but in the light of the requirements of the entire educational structure, is also called for. We are pressed by our expert advisers, each speaking with unconcealed loyalty to his own special subject, to store the minds of our youths with knowledge. But what is sometimes forgotten is that the capacity of their minds is limited and knowledge that would be useless or superfluous in after-life must make room for that which is necessary and useful. Well did a distinguished scholar once observe that we shall not be able to apply our stock of knowledge with that readiness which the exigencies of life demand, if our mental store-house is like an ill-arranged lumber-room.

We have therefore to keep in mind the need for a liberal and useful education, on which will be raised the superstructure of such departments of study as will produce men and women trained in diverse branches of knowledge, theoretical and practical, which will make them fit persons in the service of the nation. The question has been and will be how far and how best we can combine education, that is, the bringing out of the faculties with instruction, that is the imparting of valuable knowledge. If we can induce the right mood, achievement of the purpose will not be difficult. Each University should adequately reflect the peculiar needs of the country and the area it specially serves and should produce men who will not add further to the waste of human materials but possess both knowledge and culture so as to be absorbed in worthy occupations. To put it differently we can say that true education should include the local idea, the national idea and the international idea,

A problem that has recently agitated the minds of persons interested in education relates to the relationship of students with colleges and Universities. In our country from time immemorial, the teacher and the student stood in the same relationship as did a father and his son. In modern days, the atmosphere in educational institutions does not always lead to the formation of a healthy social life between the teacher and the student. This is all the more conspicuous in non-residential institutions where opportunities for mutual contact are necessarily limited. The situation often becomes embarrassing to educational authorities when exciting political questions agitate the minds of students and directly influence their conduct within the colleges, although the authorities have no responsibility whatsoever for such situations or developments. My intimate association with the student community makes me assert unhesitatingly that we should miss no opportunities of discussing with them all those problems that agitate their minds, even though they may have no direct connection with their academic work. This close association and frank exchange of ideas soon melt away feelings of shyness and aloofness from their minds, and whatever their ultimate viewpoint, it creates an atmosphere of mutual trust and confidence whose value cannot be over-estimated.

Unfortunate disturbances, such as strikes and noisy demonstrations, are becoming a common feature in educational institutions and this tendency should be discouraged in the interest of all concerned. If the controversy relates to a matter affecting the internal affairs of an institution and cannot be amicably solved by the college itself, the final decision should be left to a representative University Board. I see no reason why the University Regulations should not make the decision of such a body binding on the parties concerned. I know this interference on the part of the University may not always be welcomed by all educational institutions. But let me impress upon them that I would gladly accept, first and foremost, any satisfactory solution by the college itself without interference from anybody else. If this is not possible, I would much rather leave the decision in the hands of an impartial body of academic men than permit the disturbance to spread and be exploited by persons who may be least concerned with the welfare of the institution or of the students affected.

As regards disturbances due to extraneous reasons, I would beg of the students not to make the educational institutions the forum for expressing their disapproval of questions of public policy which might deeply stir their minds. I am not one of those who favour University students remaining aloof from the burning questions of the day. I would not, however, like them to be engrossed in party politics, for I believe they should maintain their independence of outlook and zealously cultivate that spirit of clear and critical thinking, that free power of reasoning, which should be their main asset as they enter upon public life on the completion of their educational career. But nothing should prevent them from an active study and discussion of all important political questions of the day, and even, should they so desire, sympathising with particular schools of thought which they individually or collectively might choose to support. With good-will and understanding on both sides the University and College Unions should prove a healthy training ground for future citizenship. Frankly speaking, occasional outbursts of youthful feelings should not worry educational administrators. But when they are allowed to interfere with the regular routine of academic work, or create deadlocks on issues, small and insignificant, they become a disease which, if unchecked, will destroy the very foundation of that strong disciplined character which must be an essential possession of all young men and women anxious to dedicate their lives to the cause of their country's liberty.

I have noticed recently a notification issued by a Provincial Government laying down severe penalties for the maintenance of discipline amongst students. One threat held out is that such students as may come under the purview of the order will be debarred from Government service. To my mind, threats of punitive action will defeat the very object which the authors of the order themselves allege to have in view. Besides, this particular threat is an idle one. For today admission to public services is controlled by various non-academic considerations and in any case it absorbs only a fraction of University-trained youths. Again, no words can be too strong to condemn any policy of espionage which encourages secret reports of the activities of the students to be supplied by the teachers themselves. Any attempted transformation of the free and sacred temple of learning into a branch of the Intelligence Department is a sure method of destroying the soul of India's manhood.

Enforced discipline such as these processes imply must make room for discipline from within. Modern psychology tells us that the mind of man cannot be built up by superimposed ideas and instructions without regard to its own living impulses. We shall be untrue to our work as teachers and administrators if we fail to make the right appeal to the student community and make them realise that the maintenance of sound discipline in educational institutions is a duty not cast on officers and teachers alone but must readily be shared by the students themselves. The mass student-mind is sound and pure. In every country the youth adores the spirit of patriotism. The time of youth is the time for initiative and enthusiasm, for that disregard of consequences which makes men willing to undertake great things, the time when a man can do great things that the mass of men cannot believe to be possible. "Adore enthusiasm," says Mazzini, "worship the dreams of the virgin soul, and the visions of early youth, for they are the perfume of Paradise, which the soul preserves in issuing from the hands of the Creator." In a subject country such as ours, the patriotic impulses of youth are apt to be all the more fervent and outspoken, and it will be the height of folly if thoughts and ideals that vibrate their minds and make them feel restless are not fully appreciated by us. The academic atmosphere can retain its sanctity and freedom, only with the loyal assistance of the students. We must do all that lies in our power to awaken them to the realisation that national problems have not been solved in other countries, and cannot be solved in India, by such childish methods as students' strikes and demonstrations within the colleges, that the best way of helping to cope with a national crisis that faces India today is for them to combine with the Universities in securing for themselves better education and better preparation for life.

For us who are responsible for shaping the policy of the Universities it would be well to remember the prophetic words of a great thinker that it would be a most deplorable thing to make the price of education for our youths the surrender of the years of the greatest initiative and enthusiasm and of the hope and capacity for great deeds to rigid surveillance or to the work of acquisition alone. Let us keep our students at work getting knowledge out of books but not while the enthusiasm of youth is ebbing away and the capacity of doing things is being gradually lost. Learning itself is not always of the greatest value. The man who is made is the great thing and the work of doing is the great thing in the man. But it is not the man alone that the University is to make. Let us teach our students and let us ourselves demonstrate that no man lives to himself, that no task can be more patriotic than that of binding the whole community together by common association and aspirations. The object of education is not the construction of a single man who dies and is forgotten. Benefits to the community, to the nation, to civilization, are all that are of value, and the production of the individual man whose influence shall live for ever in the weal of humanity—that is the great object of every University. Let us lift up the mass of our countrymen from hard conditions of poverty and ignorance and let us produce the individual man framed and trained in our Universities who will worthily participate in that majestic progress. All our students may not become very learned, all may not even go very deeply into any one subject. But what is our education worth if we have not been able to push back their horizons, to remove their vision from the little concrete objects that fill a narrow and isolated life and to make them realise, however vaguely, the existence of a vast field of human life and interest, of history and science, of achievement and failure, of examples and warnings outside of themselves, beyond the period of their lives and even the limits of their province and country?

The need of a broad outlook and a clear vision was never so imperative as at the present moment. We meet in a time of storm and stress. Kings and crowns are tumbling down and countries that have long been the citadels of freedom are today the ruthless victims of superior force. India appreciates, more perhaps than any other country, what it is for a people to lose their political power and independence. Battling nations and warring ideologies contend for mastery in the East and the West.

The roaring tide of partisanship and passion threatens to sweep away many of the institutions we hold dear, and, who knows, may even destroy whatever remains of the integrity of this ancient land of ours. Distrust and prejudice, invariably associated with the doctrine of overlordship, still cloud the Indian horizon. In the words of a keen observer of modern times, racial and religious prejudices, which we had fondly believed to be the outcome of ignorant reaction, have been made the basis of national policy and learned men have been found able to reconcile the defence of this barbarism with their conscience.

Agra faced problems of serious import in the past when it first emerged to full view from the mist of antiquity. It found an India divided against itself—a prey to internal chaos and external aggression. The Central Government whose power had once been felt from the Himalayas to Madura had collapsed. Rival princes and barons fought for supremacy in the various provinces. The spectre of foreign domination loomed large on the horizon. Buccaneers from neighbouring continents were already intercepting pious pilgrims and peaceful traders, and trying to establish their lairs on the defenceless seaboard of India. How did the eminent men of Agra deal with the situation in the sixteenth century? They realised the supreme need of the country's unity. India, according to certain bureaucratic administrators and myopic politicians, is not one country or nation. But was not the unity of the land and its people emphasised by ancient writers? Did not the poet sing of the whole country as—

मेरा सोनेका हिन्दुस्थान,
तु हि मेरे दिलकी रोशनी,
तु हि मेरी जान ।

It is to the task of the unification of this land of Hindusthan that a long line of rulers, Hindu and Muslim, directed their energies in the past. In the work of political unification in the sixteenth century, Akbar was ably seconded, among others, by Todar Mal and noble men of the house of Jaipur. Your city became the metropolis of a united Hindusthan and retained that proud position for well nigh a century. The Rajput and the Pathan, the Mogul and the Audhi Khetri, retained their individual culture. But they co-operated to establish an edifice carved in granite, and hewn out of the rock of liberalism, toleration and a broadmindedness that did away with the artificial barriers raised by racial and religious prejudices. The structure stood till the recrudescence of intolerance and arrogance levelled it to the ground, to the eternal misfortune of our country.

With unity had come freedom from the foreign menace. The Kings of Iran and Turan came to acquire a wholesome respect for the Government of Hindusthan, and the sea-rovers from the West were content to send pious missionaries and peaceful ambassadors to the Imperial Court. The quiet teachings of mediaeval bhaktas—apostles of Ahimsa—useful as they were in imbuing the people with ideas of catholicity, neighbourly charity and toleration, so essential for national organisation and solidarity, would not have sufficed to save the country from chaos and aggression, had they not been reinforced by the valour of the horsemen of Akbar, the spearmen of Man Singh and the cohorts of Todar Mal. Will the lessons of the past be lost on us? Shall we encourage movements that threaten to disrupt the unity of this country? It should not be forgotten that if Indian history teaches a lesson, it is this—that political disruption due to tribal jealousy and religious antagonism has been the harbinger of foreign domination.

If Indian unity is a desideratum, its essential prerequisite is a broad toleration in every sphere of life. Racial and religious prejudices have often, throughout the ages, turned Europe into reeking shambles and disintegrated nations and “ramshackle empires,” which, had they remained united, would have been better able to withstand the shock of external invasion. A loud lament has gone forth from an Anglo-Saxon statesman that his navy bears a heavier burden through lack of ports in a Celtic land with a predominantly Catholic population, which was once united to his country by stronger political ties. Perhaps the Catholics and Celts still remember Drogheda and Wexford, the penal laws and Coercion Acts. Our Motherland has to be saved, if necessary, with our life-blood, from Droghedas and Wexfords and their inevitable corollary— an Ulster in an “Emerald Isle” and a sullen Eire within a frowning Commonwealth.

Let men and women trained in Indian Universities of today unite in their efforts for the remaking of their Motherland. No country has attained greatness or liberty except through loyal and disinterested service of her children. The spirit of the New India must be born of struggle and arduous labour and sacrifice, of noble scorn of ease and luxury, of thirst for knowledge and its widest application to the alleviation of human misery and suffering, of a broad-based toleration and justice affecting the rights of the vast multitude of the Indian people, of a burning and unalterable faith in the political integrity of the country, of loyalty to truth and faith in God. Let us proceed on the path that leads to the Home of Liberty, of Justice, of Righteousness, undaunted by obstacles or failures, gaining courage and strength from the everlasting truth that, even if the present generation comes to its journey's end before the goal is reached, our ceaseless efforts will inspire those who follow us, and they will carry on the unfinished duty with unabated energy and determination and know no rest or peace till Victory is achieved.
